IT IS BISHOP TALBOT THE DIOCESAN CONVENTION NAMES WESTERN BISHOP

IS BISHOP BECKWITH'S SUCCESSOR.

The Story of the Proceedings of the Day-Mr. ams Nominates Bishop Talbot. Sketch of the New Bishop.

MACON, GA, July 1 .- [Special.]-It is shop Talbot. The convention of the ocese of Georgia chose a successor to Bishop Beckwith today, and everything indicates that the new bishop is a worthy successor of the great man who preceded

The election did not occur until the ernoon, but early in the day it became evident that Mr. Talbot would be called His election was warmly advocated by leaders of the clergy and laity, and his election was practically unanimous.

The Opening Session. The diocesan convention met today at 10 o'clock at Christ church. There was a good attendance of delegates, laymen and clergy. There was also present as spectators a number of citizens. The first order of the day was devotional services, in which the convention and congregation participated. After the devotional services the convention entered upon official business. Rev. Mr. William Hunter, of Columbus, presided. The roll was called by Rev. Mr. Reese, rector, of Christ church, Macon, who secretary of the convention.

In the beginning of the session there wa some debate in regard to inserting names on the roll in the place of absent ones, and the question was decided by the chairman ing an opinion that all those names would have to be referred to the committes on credentials. On this account a motion was made and carried that the name be referred to the committee on credentials, which immediately retired.

The report of the standing committe consisted of the letter received from Rev. Dr. Gailor, of Sewanee, Tenn., and an announcement that there were several maters before the committee which could not be as yet decided upon.

A resolution was next introduced by Rev. Chauncey Williams, of Augusta, to the effect that a record be taken, immediately following the report of the committee on credentials, for the purpose of brotherly conference of laymen and clergy separately, in regard to matters to be brought before the Rev. Williams stated that he thought a great deal of wrangling and argument would be dispensed with under these circumstances and he so convinced the assembly of the propriety of this action that the resolution was adopted by them.

An invitation was extended to the conention to visit Appleton's Church home and the new home for indigent women at some time set at their own convenience. The invitation was accepted.

The report of the committee on credentials was as follows:

We, the committee on credentials, report the following corrections in the list of lay delegates: F. G. Bailey for D. J. Bailey, James Barnes for Joseph Staley, J. Wilcox for T. D. Tinsley, J. W. Weed for W. T. Charlton, W. deB. Kops for David Wells, Pearce Howe, and would ectfully suggest the adoption of the

When this report was made it was moved and carried that the convention adjourn till 3 o'clock this afternoon, when business was resumed.

The afternoon session was a little late in coming to order. As soon as the meet ing was declared in session Rev. Mr. Will. iams introduced a resolution that the convention take a recess, subject to the call of the president, in order to allow the clergy to confer for the purpose of preparing a report to the convention. The resolution was adopted, and the convention was declared in recess until the clergy should finish the work. During the recess a committee from the clergy announced to the laymen that the clergy had practically made an agreement and they asked that a committee be appointed to meet the committee of the clergy for the purpose of ascertaining if the clergy and laymen could come to an agreement.

Talbot Nominated. The request was granted by a motion to that effect being carried, and the two committees immediately retired for the above mentioned purpose. This special committee soon returned with the report that the clergy had decided upon Rev. E. O. Taibot, of Idaho, as their candidate for this bishopric.

The laymen then decided to invite the committee of the clergy to come before them and state their reasons for suggesting Rev. Mr. Talbot. When they arrived, the chairman of the committee, Rev. Mr. Willlams, then spoke in most glowing terms of Rev. Mr. Talbot, and showed that he had the admiration of the entire clergy. Mr. Talbot, he said, is missionary bishop of Idaho and Wyoming, and had made himself very popular with the frontiersmen, and was per fectly at home in the most cultured society. After some very complimentary remarks in regard to Bishop Talbot, a motion was made by one of the laymen that they also approve of this gentleman. This motion was carried. The two committees then retired to ask the president of the convention to call the assem-bly to order, so that they might take a final Yote which would elect a bishop.

The clergy in a few minutes returned, and he meeting was called to order by the presinediately succeding the call by the convention proceed to take a ballot for the convention was a taken to the alection was ident, Rev. Mr. Williams moved that vacant in the diocese. The motion was stied, and before proceeding to the election a bishop, a short recess was given for silent style for guidance in their actions.

Bishop Wingfield Nominated.

Williams then nominated Bishop Taibot, after which Right Re . J. H. D. Wing-field, missionary bishop of California, was LOOKS VERY STRANGE

The roll was then called, and each clergy-man came forward and deposited his vote. During the interim while the votes were being counted Mr. Reese, of Macon, called the attention of the convention to the fact that there were certain proposed changes in the prayer book which had been entered in the utes as unfinished business at the last neeting of the convention. A resolution was then offered to the effect that the matter ferred to a committee of three ministers and two laymen. This resolution was carried.

Bishop Talbot Chosen. In a few minutes the ballot was counted, and it was found that Bishop Talbot had received 19 votes, Bishop Mingfield 1, and Dr. Lindsey 1, thus electing Bishop Talbot, as far s the clergy were concerned.

A ballot of the parishes was next taken through their lay representatives, which re-sulted in the nomination of Right Rev. Ethelpert Talbot, he receiving 22 out of 23 votes, and Rev. Thomas F. Gailor receiving 1.
The election of Rev. Mr. Talbot was then made unanimous by a rising vote?

A Special Committee.

It was then moved and carried that the tanding committee of the convention be apcointed a special committee to notify the genleman of his election and that the communitation be made by telegram.

It was next moved and carried that a connittee be appointed to visit Appleton's Church Home and the home for indigent ladies. There being no further business it was noved and carried that the convention adourn subject to the call of the chairman of the who the New Bishop Is. op Talbot was born in Missouri. He is rty years old, five feet ten inches high, and a man of imposing appearance and fine address. He is an able and eloquent preacher. Five years ago he was elected missionary bishop of Idaho and Wyoming by the house of bishops at Chicago. It is thought that he will accept the bishopric of Georgia. UNDER MILITARY ESCORT.

The Miners Bury Their Brethren Killed

in Sunday's Riot. FRANKLIN, Wash., July 1 .- Yesterday was day of quietness and mourning in the camp in Sunday's riot occupied nearly the entire day, services being held here in the morning and interment being at Black Diamond, four miles distant, in the afternoon. Every white miner in camp marched in procession, a of military being furnished to protect them while passing through the black camp. A was also put on flats to protect white miners during their absence, as the negroes had threatened to seize the first opportunity of cleaning out the homes of the strikers. Four hundred of them stood behind lines of soldiers while the bodies were being placed on flat cars for trans-portation to Black Diamond, but not a word was spoken on either side.

THE CHANGE IN FORM Adopted by the Secretary of the Treasury

Washington, July 1.—The form of the na-tional debt statement issued from the treasury today differs materially from that heretofore followed, and the following is an authoritative explanation of the change in form and the rea son therefor:

The socretary of the treasury calls attention to certain changes in the monthly debt statement issued for June, 1891, and in the daily statement of cash in the treasury.

Heretofore the manner and make-up of the monthly statement required the showing of an increase or decrease in the public debt. Under this form it has become crease or decrease in the public debt. Under this form it has happened on several occasions that when large purchases of bonds were made the statement following would show an increase of the public debt, when a reduction had really been effected. This was owing to the fact that the principal and premium paid for bonds reduced the cash on hand beyond the amount of bonds actually redeemed. The secretary has concluded, after much thought on the subject to separate the statement of debt from the statement of cash in the treasury. Hereafter the statement of cash on hand will show the net increase or decrease from month to month, and this statement will be part of the form now adopted.

CERTAIN ITEMS ELIMINATED.

In making up the new statement of cash in the treasury, the figures will plainly show the different kinds of money included in the total. Against this total will be stated the cash liabilities. This part of the new form will take the place of assets and liabilities in the statement heretofore issued by the treasury. In former debt statements accrued interest and interest due and unpaid have appeared as current liabilities. These items have been eliminated. The secretary holds that if accrued interest may be charged as liability against cash, then with equal propriety accrued liability for the construction of public buildings, or for the improvement of rivers and harbors may be charged.

The matured debt item is made up of the remthe improvement of rivers and managed.

The matured debt item is made up of the remains of indebtedness remaining unpaid from the foundation of the government. It is assumed that less than twenty-five per cent of these will ever be presented for payment. They are now, as heretofore, carried on the debt statement, but not as liability against cash.

payment. They are now, as heretofore, carried on the debt statement, but not as liability against cash.

Thems of Liability.

The secretary also calls attention to the items of liability against cash in the treasury, composed: First, of 5 per cent fund held for the redemption of uncurrent national bank notes, which sum can only be reduced by the retirement of national bank circulation. The secretary 'thinks this amount ought, by law, to be covered into the treasury as was done recently with the fund for redemption of failed and retired national banks. The probability is that this sum will be increased during the coming year, instead of being reduced; second, the item of outstanding checks and drafts, which rarely ever falls below five million dollars; third, disbursing officers' balances, now amounting to about thirty-four million dollars; (this money is in the treasury, and the government deposits arches to the credit of disbursing officers, and seldom falls below the present amount); fourth, agency accounts, made up mainly of postal revenues, and subject to the draft of the postmaster general. This, too, rarely falls below five million dollars. These four tems amount to $51,000,000, and if held by a bank could be safely loaned up to nine-tenths of the total sum. The secretary will not hereafter deduct from his cash balance the amount on deposit in national banks, nor the fractional silver coin on hand. He thinks there is no good reason why this should ever have been done.

YESTERDAY'S STATEMENT.

Today's statement embraces the following items: Debt on which interest has ceased since maturity, $1,614,705.c; debt bearing no interest, $335,662,735.35. This includes legal tender notes, redemption accounts and fractional bank notes, redemption accounts and fractional bank notes, redemption accounts and purchases of silver bullion; $404,190,031 of this includes items of gold, silver and currency certificates and treasury notes of 1890 (bullion purchase notes); interest bearing debt, $610,299,120; aggregate of debt,

The Sun's Cotton Review.

New York, July 1.—Futures opened higher and further advanced, partially requered, closing steady at an advance of seven to nine roints on near, and four to six points on late months from yesterday's closing prices. The Liverpool market was today a great disappointment to our bears. It was expected that tenders there on July contracts would be about 40,000 bales, and that consequently there would be a sharp decline, but tenders were only 800 bales, and that market made a sharp advance in futures. Our bears were, therefore, active climbers for the cotton they sold yesterday, running the price for August up to 8.16, from which there was a slight decline. The differences between the summer and winter months continue to marrow, and today August and January were only forty-nine points apart. Grop accounts continue to be very good.

MR. SOL HAAS'S DENIAL DISGUSSED. or Mr. Haas's Memory Needs Refresh-ing-What About It.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., July 1 .- [Special.] -A prominent official of the Nashville, Chatta nooga and St. Louis railroad, on reading in this morning's Constitution the telegram of Mr. Sol Haas, traffic manager of the Richmond and Danville railroad, that he had had no correspondence whatever with the Western and Atlantic Railroad Company or any other road looking to an advance of the rates an coal from the coal mines to Atlanta and other points, expressed great surprise at these statements, and remarked with emphasis that Mr. Haas's memory must certainly be very short, or he was the victim of the most eleverly executed forgery which has been put on paper in many a day.

Your correspondent asked to be shown the document, but this was declined. The high standing of your correspondent's informant, however, and his positive manner leave no doubt as to the clear meaning of his words, which were to the effect that Mr. Haas should refresh his memory on this question before sending any more telegrams.

"Has such a letter been written," your correspondents under this late."

espondent asked. "It certainly has, and is now a part of the records of the Western and Atlantic railroad, and I have no doubt that Mr. Haas can have access to it if he wants, and he will no doubt ask that it be given to the public to expose the forgery, for such it must be."

It was impossible to get any further details concerning the letter further than a definite statement of the fact that Mr Haas, or some one signing for him had been in communication with that Western and Atlantic, concerning the coal rate, and that an increase in the rate had been asked. It has been no secret here among the officers of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis that every effort has been made to induce a raise in the coal rate, and to bring about an equalization of the through which has been in operation since about the 15th of March last. A Word from the Q. and C. A reporter of The Constitution, learning that Mr. Don Alexander, division freight agent of the Queen and Crescent system, was in the city yesterday, called his attention to the special from Chattanooga in yesterday's Constitution regarding the increase in the coal rates.

striction regarding the increase in the coal rates.

Mr. Alexander was disposed to think the article, with the comments thereon, rather unfair to the interests represented by him.

"Mr. Haas's telegram of June 30th, published in yesterday's Constitution," he said, "is an absolutely correct statement of the case. No advance whatever has been or will be made on the rates published March 14, 1891, from the mines on the Queen and Crescent system to Atlanta. The present complaint," he said, "grew out of the dissatisfaction of the coal miners at being unable to use an illegitimate combination of local rates, which would perhaps cut the legal and authorized through rates."

Mr. Alexander called attention to the section.

Mr. Alexander called attention to the sec tion of the interstate commerce law, makin such a manipulation of rates a felony.

"Considering the distance and surrounding conditions," he added, "the coal rates to Atlanta from the various points of supply are certainly as low, if not lower, than any corresponding rates made in the south, and they have treed without constants.

they have stood without comment or criticism for a considerable period. I am surprised to find them a matter of sensation at the present time, and can account for it only through the dissatisfaction of interested parties who have failed to secure a reduction by methods and

The above may be satisfactory to Mr. Alexander, but it will not satisfy the public. The coal rates from the mines to Atlanta have cer tainly been advanced since the date he names-March 14th. The Western and Atlantic re-fused to accede to an advance, their rate re-maining as it was; the increase in the rates from the mines to Atlanta have been made; if the increase doesn't come on the Queen and Crescent, where does it come?

WASHINGTON, July 1 .- Calvin S. Brice chairman of the national democratic commit-tee, has written the following letter to the chairmen of state committees:
NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC CONNITTEE, NEW YORK

has been submitted to and meets the approval of the national committee.

The selection of correspondents under this plan is of the greatest importance, and under this date I have written to the member of the national committee from your state asking him to communicate with you at once so that proper selections may be made.

The plan cannot in any way interfere with the state organization, and on the contrary, proposes intimate co-operation with the state committee as well as with the national committee. It has met with unprecedented success in other states.

Trusting that you will give this matter your favorable and prompt attention. Yours respectfully, Calvin S. Brice.

Chairman National Democratic Committee.

THE IOWA REPUBLICANS.

Wheeler Nominated for Governor. CEDAR RAPIDS, Is., July 1.-One of the assembled in the state of Iowa convened in political parties that this campaign is to be a decisive one, and its effect on national politics decisive one, and its effect on national politics is fully appreciated by every politician of the Hawkeye State. The republican party is theroughly united for the first time in many years, and today's convention was distinguished by its harmony and good feeling. The nomination of Hiram C. Wheeler for governor was assured in advance, and upon the platform there was substantially a reiteration of the party principles of two years ago. By an arraignment of the democratic party for connivance with the lawless element in violation and nullification of the prohibitory law, an attempt is made to place the party on the defensive in the coming campaign. The threatened break over the financial question never came and it is likely the free coinage question will be almost lost from sight in other stirring issues that are to agitate Iowa politics for the next four months.

Chairman Mack, of the state central committee, called the convention to order mittee, called the convention to order promptly at 11 o'clock. Chairman Mack's speech was short and crisp. It consisted in announcing John Y. Stone, of Mills county, as temporary chairman.

CHEERING FOR BLAINE. In assuming the chair Mr. Stone made using speech of nearly an hour's duration He was frequently interrupted by applause, but the culminating point was reached the name of James G. Blaine was uttered.

"There is but one reciprocity," said he, "and James G. Blaine is its prophet." At the first mention of Blaine the loyalty of the Hawkeye republicans to the man from Maine was more than demonstrated. Cheer after cheer arose from the vast audience, and the ladies in the galleries went wild with their political brothers in their manifestation of reciprocity and admi-ration for the distinguished secretary of state. At the conclusion of the temporary chairman's speech a new state central committee and various committees of the convention were and various committees of the convention were appointed.

The convention took a recess until 2 o'clock p. m., to allow the committees time to discharge their duties. Ex-Congressman John H. Gear was selected as permanent chairman, Immediately after the reconvening of the convention Permanent Chairman Gear was introduced and made a brief speech predicting party success on the tariff and local issue.

The nomination of state officers was then declared in order and the convention declared that no nominating speeches should be permitted.

For governor, Hiram C. Wheeler, of Ode-bolt, Sac county, was nominated on the first ballot amid great enthusiasm.

TALKING IT OVER.

A State Democratic Conference in Min nesota-Prominent Alliancemen Present. MINNEAPOLIS, July 1.—The state democratic conference gathered here today with 150 leading politicians in attendance. The ostensible ing politicians in attendance. The ostensible object of the gathering is to organize a club movement of the state, and discuss campaign plans. It has been persistently asserted in many quarters, however, that the conference has the ulterior object of ending the dominance of P. H. Kelley and Michael Doran in democratic councils, and of discussing a fusion with the alliance party on the electoral ticket in 1892.

with the alliance party on the electoral ticket in 1892.

Some color is lent to the first of these theories by the absence of Kelley and Doran, and the presence of many of their avowed enemies and to the latter theory by the presence of some alliance leaders.

It has even been hinted that the gathering would be anti-Cleveland and pro-Hill in sentiment. The forenoon was spent in the hotel lobbies. Finally an organization was effected, with Mayor E. W. Durant, of Stillwater, as chairman, and C. A. Moody, of Sauk Rapids, as secretary. Mayor Winston, of this city, having welcomed the delegates, the usual committees were appointed, and an adjournment until 2 o'clock p. m. was taken.

TO FIGHT THE ALLIANCE. Meeting to Be Held in Montgo

Purposes Discussed MONTGOMERY. Ala., July 1 .- [Special.]-

Montgomery. Ala., July 1.—[Special.]—
For some time the matter of putting speakers in the field to wage a campaign against alliance principles has been discussed in some of the leading democratic papers of the state, and in some of the papers the state executive committee of the party was called upon to take steps to carry the suggestion into effect.

It is stated by Colonel H. C. Tompkins, chairman of the state executive committee, that he has received offers from several prominent party leaders to enter such a canvaxs, if requested by the exective committee.

In pursuance of all that has been said and done a letter has been sent to each member of the committee calling for a special meeting in this city next Monday. At this meeting the committee will consider the subject of cooperating with the national organization of democratic clubs to organize such clubs throughout this state. As these questions have caused wide-spread discussion and much interest throughout the state, it is thought thas the measure will be largely attended.

Their c stant recourse to the courts has caused a feel them until lately it has reached a white heat, and the interested parties concluded to kill off Stephens and his family, hoping to thus rid

The poisonous matter from the snake cozed through the rotten flesh, through the perforated box and into the otherwise pure water.

Stephens and his family, unaware of their danger, drank and used the water for cooking. Monday their bodies began swelling. Tuesday the swelling increased; their muscles ached and their eyes turned blood red; their mouths were parched and water from the poisoned well was vainly used to quench their raging thirst.

Totally unconscious of their approaching doom the negroes still used the water until finally the entire family was stricken down unable to move their limbs, and their eyes swellen out of proportion. Friends happened along and medical aid was secured, the water tasted and found impure, and today the well was dragged, the box containing the deadly dose found, and the unusual sickness of the family explained. They are now improving and later will take steps to apprehend the person who committed the deed.

Subsequently they found out about the resignations and traced the forgery to Hill. He said he did it for fun.

SHE CONFESSED A CRIME, But the Officers Don't Think She Has Stuck to the Truth.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., July 1.—[Special.]—
Monday July Bibb, a negro woman, came from her home, fourteen miles from the city, and surrendered to the sheriff, saying that on Saturday night a negro named Asa Starke came to her house and attempted an assault upon her, and in defending herself she used an ar, striking her assailant several blows, splitting his skull and killing him instantly.

The woman was committed to jail to await a preliminary hearing.

Today an officer from the locality in which Starke was killed brought Joe Bibb, July Bibb's husband, and Bar Murrel to the jail on a charge of having committed the murder. It is stated that proof has developed to show a conspiracy between the two men and the woman to murder Asa Starke, and then the waman was to surrender herself and tell the story of the attempted assault to clear herself, and at the same time shield the real perpetrators of the crime.

OVER THE VISIT OF THE EMPEROR OF GERMANI.

THE CUEEN BUSY ARRANGING DETAILS.

Windsor Castle Not Capacious Enough Hold the Emperor and His Retinua-The Arrival at Amsterdam.

AMSTERDAM, July 1.- The flotilla escorting the emperor of Germany and his party arrived here today, accompanied by the Dutch squadron, under Vice Admiral de Josselin de Jong. This squadron consists of the cruisers Konignen, Emma, Der Nederland, 3,400 tons; Van Galen, 2,160 tons, and Johan Willem Frisco, 3,400 tons; ithe steel-protected cruises Sumatra, of the Dutch colonial navy, three armed rams, and several armed monitors.

The German emperor who was on board the imperial yacht Hohenzollern entered Nord Zee kanaal at Ymuiden mouth, where the yaher will lie during the emperor's visit.

Upon landing at the dock here the emperor's received by Queen Wilhelmina Hele Paulina Mary, who is only eleven years of age, and by the queen regent, Emma, princes of Waldeck. The queen and queen regen were surrounded by a brilliant gathering of cabinet ministers and army officers and m cipal and other authorities.

After the most imposing ceremonies of the reception the imperial guests of Holland were escorted to the palace where they will be entertained during their stay in this city. The prince of Wales today had a long data view with the queen, who summoned the happarent to her presence for the purpose discussing and settling a number of infanite perplexing questions of court etiquette a precedence which have arisen on account of: approaching visit of the young emperor of Germany to his royal grandmother. Thus, court circles, military circles, circles of society and nearly all other circles, are more or less stirred up and worried by Emperor William's coming, and thousands will not breathe freely until Germany's emperor has left these shores.

AFRAID OF ASSASSINS. German detectives, British detectives, and extra police of all kinds are already attend-ing to business in London, at Windsor and else-where, for the fact that there are hot-headed, emperor-hating Germans and Frenchmen in Great Britain is not lost sight of by the authorities there or in Berlin.

The queen's cream-colored horses, which are used only on great state occasions, will draw the imperial carriage in procession to Windsor castle. The Scot's guards will be in line from the station to the castle. The queen, and rounded by household officials and Lord Salisbury and other ministers, will receive the visitors in a large quadrangle. French ritists at the opera deny that they have refused to sing before Emperor William.

TODAY'S BIG FIGHT

ers of Both Sides Discuss the Chanively Scenes in Athens Last Night. Everything in Trim for the Battle.

ATHENS, Ga., July 1.—[Special.]—Classic Athens has gone wild this night. If the eve of Waterloo brought to Belgium's capital, with all its shocking thunder of roaring artillery, tramping infantry, dashing cavalry and gener norrow's prohibition election has brought to orgia's classic city tonight, then history has failed to record the fact, and Athenians would still doubt ithif it had.

No man under the sun can predict the end of orrow's battle in old Clarke. There is pos-Itively no telling, and to an outsider it is folly to listen to the sanguine calculations ar nest estimations of either side.

Never was there a popular election in this blic with more evenly balanced power than that which belongs to the people of Athens to m orrow.

For the satisfaction of its readers, THE CON BT TUTION today sought to obtain from leading me u on each side interviews as to the standing cha uces of their parties. Pope Barrow Talks.

Hon. Pope Barrow, president of the law and order party, was seen and asked for an opinion from that side. Mr. Barrow is taking quite an active hand in the campaign against the blind tigers, but has but little to say for newspapers He is a man, however, who means all that he says at all times, and says it carefully. Mr. order man in this county is a protest agains the illegal traffic in liquor which now disgrace and demoralizes our community, and we can not stand it. You can form no idea unless you examine the facts of the extent to which this contraband traffic has grown. Anybody can buy it. A child can be sent without a note or name, and in a few minutes will return wit liquor. All you have to do is to give him ney. They are scattered all over town; in k streets, in the suburbs, in cellars, in back rooms, in holes in the ground. The efforts to convict them have failed because the law is so extreme that public opinion does not sustain th, and its violators escape when prosecuted.

The law and order party is wedded to no special plan of relief. All they ask is that it be regulated by law. We believe that the average citizen will go to a lawful place to buy liquor if one is open, and the contraband trafwill in a great measure perish n will buy it lawfully if they if not, they will buy it anyhow. We are sick and bred of the "blind tiger dens' that infest the town, and we other way to roo do not believe there is any other way to root

"What do you think the result of the vote will be tomorrow?'

"I cannot undertake to give figures, but my expinion is that the majority for law and order will be larger than is supposed. The silent wote is a heavy one. The settled business m en, the solid men of Athens, who don't to lk much, will be found tomorrow voting with us. I am very, very tired, and you must ex cuse me from talking longer. This campa ign has taxed me more than the trial of a do zen cases in court."

Prince Hodgson's Views. Your reporter then called upon Mr. Prince Ho dgson, the president of the prohibition club, and although as busy as he could be with the closing work of the great campaign now on h and, he cheerfully stopped to have a short interview with THE CONSTITUTION in response to my inquiry.

"W'ell, sir," said Mr. Hodgson, "you may may that both sides are on the move. It is the t earnest and intense struggle that has date we have been able to carry it on with unusual forbearance and kind to sling on both sides. The prohibitionists have been anxious to meet every proper movement that has been suggested in the interest of harmony. The law and order club offered as an olive branch what is known as the dis ponsary system, which is now in sucoperation in Barnesville. Some of our side were not altogether pleased with the idea, but it was believed to be acceptable to ost of those who are opposed to barrooms, so e indicat ed our willingness to accept it. I think it by far the best solution of this much vexed question. We climed up rather cheerfully and b riskly into this new platform, but our prompt acceptance seemed to create a commotion in the camp of the enemy, and without wai ting to welcome us, some leaders of the antis began jumping off and most of their gang, like Mary's little lamb, went following after."

"Well, Mr. Hodgson, what about tomorrow How do you think the vote will be?"

"Yes, that's the main thing, isn't it?" said Mr. Hodg son. "I am not going to tell you ust exactly, but I will give you res to dresum over tonight. In the first block, we are not going to allow barrooms brought back. An overwhelming majority of the white vote of Clarke county is opposed to it. The colored brother is the uncertain tity. Thir teen hundred and twenty-one thite votes are registered; 1,069 colored votes rill be polled: 80() colored will be polled. We will get 70 per cen t of the white votes and 30 cent of the colored vote. Work that out you will see that we will have 840 white and 240 colored-to tal, 1080. The antis will get 30 per cent of the white vote and 70 per ent of the colored, or 360 white and 540 -total, 920. This will give us a majority of 160 votes. The other side claim everything, you know. They say they are the law and order party, yet every movement of irs tends toward violation of law and to dis-Barrooms do not lead to law and It is a matter of some surprise and ich regret that a few of our prominen ns do not seem to realize what they are endeavoring to saddle upon our fair city. Our material prosperity has been great—far der the reign of prohibition for the st six years than for any other twenty years existence. It is a serious mistak o-called law and order men are making in trying to re-establish the old barrooms regit, but will bury them tomorrow, and see if re don't. Goodby.'

THE STATE PAIR PREMIUM COM-

But the Question of Holding a Fair Goes Executive Committee.

Macon, Ga., July 1.—[Special.]—The premium committee of the state fair met in Macon today. The members present were: President Waddell, Treasurer Powell, Secre tary Jemison, Messrs. Park, of Macon; Lyons, of Cartersville; Home, of Dalton; Hape, of Atlanta. Mr. Lyons represented Mr. Jones, of Norcross, who couldn't be present.

The committee took no positive action about holding the state fair next October. They discussed the construction of the contract between the city of Macon and the Georgia agricultural society, and decided not to take action but leave the matter for the decision of the entire vacutive committee at the August conven ion which meets at Athens.

Thus it is not yet known whether or not a state fair will be held in Georgia this year.

President Waddell says the postponment of the matter till August does not at all mean hat there will be no fair, for one of the best fairs ever given by the society was not d upon until at an August meeting. It may be remarked in passing, however, that in that year not another exposition or fair was held, hence the people had no other exhibition than the state fai The action of the recent conference between the representatives of the city of Macon and the society, in regard to the money claim of the society against the city, was not referred to today. It was neither approved nor condemned. The members of the society have come to the conclusion that there has been wrong on the part of the society as well as that alleged by the society against the city. President Waddell said tonight that the bill presented by the society against city, amounting to over one thousand dol-lars, will probably be considerably modified. He says one item of $400 for changing a house at the park may be withdrawn by the society. This is the item which ex-Secretary Nisbet, of the society, says the city was not responsible for. President Waddell says another item of $100, involving a baking oven, may also be withdrawn, as Mayor Price claims to have made all the necessary

This, then, makes $500 which was rightfully charged against the city, and the society may find more of the same sort. The city has agreed to pay about one hundred dollars of the claims presented, so this leaves only about four hundred dollars in dispute between the city and the society. Macon can be relied on to do her full duty in the matter. The meeting adjourned about dark, and the members departed to their vari-

An Old Man's Terrible Crime.

ROME, Ga., July 1.—[Special.]—Today Newton Powell, "white," sixty years old, was brought here from Walker county and given to Sheriff Moore's care. The charges against him are of the most terrible character. About three years ago, the charge is, he criminally assaulted his eighteen-year-old daughter.

Powell will not talk, but from reports it seems that Walker county people only recently learned of the state of affairs, and about three weeks ago had him arrested and confined in jall. As the prison was insecure, and as popular indignation was great, he was brought here for an eksping. Hells a toughtening customer.

and a great deal of business was transacted. The following gentlemen were elected deacons: H. H. Cabaniss, Z. T. Blalock, J. B. Wallace and J. B. Willingham. They are all young men very prominent in the church. The pastor was granted a two months' leave of absence, but he stated that he could only be absent during July, as pressing business connected with his church and denomination would compel him to be here nearly the whole of August. He will leave for Virginia immediately after preaching his annual sermon on next Sunday.

THE CORONER'S VERDICT Upon the Death of Dempsey-Beer Sold to Minors Led to It.

ROME, Ga., July 1.—[Special.]—After the death of Frank Dempsey on yesterday, Cor-oner Brennon summoned a jury of inquest composed of the following citizens: B. F. Warren, Sam Shropshire, O. P. Neel, Henry Moore, W. S. Richards and W. H. Henson. Richards was elected foreman. Mr. Brumby, of The Tribune, was appointed secretary.

The testimony of Drs. Fowler and Johnson, the physicians attending Dempsey, showed that his death resulted from the wound inflicted by a knife. This wound was ten and one-half inches in length, and severed the bowels in two or three places.

The knife was a four-bladed, horn handled cket knife, the largest blade some two and a Half inches in length.

Eugene Logan, Jim Dempsey, Fletcher Ware and Arthur Wheatley were the witnesses examined by the jury, all testifying that the deceased was cut by Herrick during the fight.

On account of the absence of one or two

On account of the absence of one or two other witnesses the inquest was adjourned till 7 o'clock this morning, when they met in the city hall, and after the examination of only one witness, Henry Adkins, the jury brought in a verdict of involuntary manslaughter.

The young men engaged in this affair were all minors and the testimony showed that a keg of beer was no doubt the cause of the difficulty.

Investigations made, show that a young man, Levi Thomas, sold the beer, and he has been arrested and put under bond for doing so.

NOW COMPLETE IN EVERT PARTIC-ULAR.

Just fifteen days from today the Piedmon

The Third Annual Session to Open July 15th.—Crowds Coming from Every-

Chantauqua will again open its gates to wel ome the large crowd which is expected to at tend. An interesting and attractive programme has been arranged. Dr. Heidt, the superintendent, has spared no pains nor money in preparing the most elaborate and entertaining programme that the patrons of this Chautauqua have yet witnessed. Every department is in competent hands. This grand nstitution of learning is doing a great work for the people of Georgia and adjoining states, and will continue to be one of the permanent fixtures of the state for the diffusion of knowledge and entertainment for the people. It is certainly the most pleasant and attractive point anywhere to be found. Beside the regular chautauqua session is a Grady summer college in which all the higher branches of learning are taught-kindergarten, art department, gymnasium, elocution vocal and instrumental music, normal school, ministers' institute typewriting and shorthand. In fact almost everything one can think of is to be learned at the chautauqua. A glance at the programme will convince any one that the best platform lectures that can be obtained has been engaged by the hautau qua company. Every day's programme will be full of interest. The famous Weber band with the best select musicians has been engaged for the season. This band needs no introducting to the people of Atlanta, nor the people who have visited the chautauqua for the last two years. It certainly is composed of the finest musicians in the United States. Besides the chautauqua attractions is the fine mineral water from the Bowden Lithia, and Browning given up to be the best mineral water in this country, with the latest bathing apparatus and every modern convenience attached. Three hotels, boarding and lodging from fifteen to twenty-five dollars per month. The grounds are perfectly beautiful, flower gardens, lawns, and three large parks, one around the spring, chautauqua, and Sweetwater Park hotel. Boat riding on the Chautauqua lake, and every other amusement to attract the attention and make it pleasant for visitors. No one could live cheaper and have a more pleasant time than to attend the chautauque this season. Make your arrangements to be present at the opening. Don't forget the time, July 15th. There are a few cottages yet to rent, inside and near the chautauqua grounds. Any one desiring further information concerning the chautauqua, renting of cottages, or programmes, can address

Atlanta is perhaps the coolest and healthiest city in the south. But there are many good citions who consider it too warm to remain during ne summer months and are looking for a cool and healthy place to rest. To all those we would suggest Roxborough Springs, nine miles from At-lanta, on the Richmond and Danville railroad, as lanta, on the Richmond and Danville raifroad, as being the most suitable place for them. There they will find a large house situated in a beautifu grove, large rooms, well venilated and well furnished. A beautiful lake for bathing and boating free of cost, pure, cold freestone water and several mineral springs within a few yards of the house. A large, well-ventilated dining room, excellent fare and cheap board, from $20 to $25 per month. Visitors can leave Atlanta at 7:10 a. m. and at 4:30 and 6 p. m., and return at 7 a. m. and at 12 noon.

Parties who wish to go up on the 4:30 p. m. train

Mr. Atkinson on Free Coinage.

In his letter, which we printed yesterday, Mr. Edward Atkinson touches on the silver question, and makes a few remarks which suggest comment. We gather from what he says that he disapproves of the term "whimsical chatter," which THE CONSTITUTION employed to characterize some of his arguments against free coinage, vet the characterization was not at all disrespectful. The wisest men are often whimsical, and the best of them fall to chattering occasionally. We have an instance before us. When Mr. Atkinson, in a recent communication to Bradstreet's publication, asserts that the "main cause of distrust at this time is the continued coinage of silver dollars, worth only about seventy-five cents each." Now, if this isn't whimsical chatter, it is something worse. Mr. Atkinson knows perfectly well that every silver dollar that has been coined since the passage of the Bland-Allison act is as good as a gold dollar. He knows that they will buy as much as a gold dollar, and yet it pleases him to declare that they are worth only about seventy-five cents each. It is this sort of whimsical chatter that discredits the attitude and theory of those who train with the British monometallists. A man of Mr. Atkinson's ability and attainments ought to be superior to this sort of thing. But he is not, for in his letter to THE CONSTITUTION he asks us if we expect foreign capital to be loaned or invested in the south "at the risk of being paid off in depreciated silver?" Perhaps Mr. Atkinson thinks this is one way of arguing the question, but it is not. People who are cock-sure of all their opin ions are known as cranks. What depreciated silver is Mr. Atkinson talking about? Does he mean to say that the opening of the mints of the United States to the 'white metal, thus placing it on an equality with gold before the law will depreciate silver? If this is what he means, why cannot he give his bold statement the wings necessary to take it out of the atmosphere of mere assumption? How does he know that free coinage will depreciate silver, or that the present bullion value of the metal will follow it to the mints and cling to it afterwards?

As a matter of course, Mr. Atkinson doesn't know anything of the sort. Reason, mon sense, and, above all, experience all point to quite a different conclusion. Nevertheless, Mr. Atkinson's remarks are not without an element of instruction. They expose to view the whole framework of assumption on which the theory of the monometallists is built. The assumption is this: that if the mints are open to silver the owners of metal will have it coined into dollars, and that the market value of a dollar's worth of bullion will still be less than a dollar. In other words, the opening of the mints will have no effect on the market price of silver. Now, if this isn't whimsical chatter, we shop!d like to know what it is.

It should be borne in mind, however, that Mr. Atkinson is not the originator of this sort of thing; he is not responsible for it. It is the stock-in-trade of the monometallists. They bring to the discussion of this great question nothing but assertion and assumption; they have nothing else to go upon. Our readers, we are sure, remember the tactics employed by the monometallists in antagonizing the Bland-Allison act. If that measure became a law, gold would be run out of the country and we should be dependent on a depreciated silver currency. There were no ifs or buts about it. Just that thing would happen and none other. The depreciated currency would bring about a financial crisis resulting in a panic, and there would be general wreck and ruin,

The Bland-Allison bill became a law, and all the assumptions of the monometallists turned out to be false. For some reason or other, which has never been explained even by the financial mugwumps, the trouble was postponed. We are now assured that all the redictions of the monometallists are to come true when our mints are open to the free coinage of silver. May we not be pardoned for smiling at these assumptions? May we not be permitted to doubt them altogether? Indeed, may we not, with good reason, refer Mr. Atkinson to the fact that from 1792 to 1873 the mints of the United States were open to the free coinage of silver, and during all those years there was no such trouble or lifficulty which the monometallists assume will follow the restoration of silver to its old place in the currency.

We presume Mr. Atkinson knows what he leans when he talks about borrowing money and paying it back in depreciated currency, We have observed that the lenders usually take care of themselves in transactions of this kind, and sometimes they take care of the borrower. Those who need money the most have only real estate security to offer, and, under our national banking laws, this is no security at all. Even if it were otherwise, the volume of our currency is so in uate to the demands of business that financial institutions will only lend ey on call. Mr. Atkinson ought to w that the highest prosperity is to be found only where money is loaned on time and put in new enterprises or employed to add to the efficiency of old ones.

But we have not the space to go into this phase of the silver question.

The New Copyright Law. It is given out in Washington that the president has prepared, or is preparing, the proclamation which is necessary to make the new copyright law operative.

When the new law goes into effect, what will be the result? There will undoubtedly be disappointment on the part of those American authors who think that the territory of Great Britain and the colonies is about to be opened to them. Our authors will sustain precisely the same relation to Great Britain that they sustained before the law went into effect. That is to say, they can obtain British copyright by issuing their books simultaneously in Great Britain and in this country. In this respect they have an advantage over the British authors. They need not wait to secure a publisher. All they have to do is to expose six bound copies of their books for sale in Great Britain on the day the volumes are issued here, or they may send the six copies to any six of the great libraries. All this is simple and comparatively inexpensive. To give a southern instance, the book entitled "Nights with Uncle Remus" was copyrighted in this way in 1884 before it had found an English pub-

On the other hand, the British author will have to secure a publisher in this country before he can derive any benefit from the law. His book must be printed in this country from type set and plates made here, and it must be bound here. This is the status now. It follows naturally that the American pirates will continue to have tolerably fat pickings; the rising British author who has not yet risen will be their

To sum up, the situation is this: The American author is precisely where he was before the copyright bill became a law. The foreign author is a little better off, provided he has made a reputation, but not much better off if he is unknown. The American pirate is crippled, but not killed. We have seen more roseate views than this, but from all such the color will fade when the law goes into effect,

Men and Machinery.

In his striking article on machinery and labor, Professor Volson Wood, of the Stevens institute, says:

The extensive use of automatic machinery is making havoc with trades. In former times the wise parent gave to his son a trade, by means of which he could earn a livelihood when speculation or other ventures failed him in atte pting to or other ventures laned film in attempting to amass a fortune; but at the present day many trades are not only profitless but are in so much danger of becoming obsolete that they are left out of consideration. A few examples will illustrate these principles.

In former days a shoemaker made shoes, but ow scarcely any one goes to the shoeshop to get them made; he goes to the store and buys the already made, and finds that the "fits" are improved upon from year to year. When one man with a boot machine can put on 1,200 soles in ten hours, as has been done, or can average half that number day after day, the country shoemake cannot afford to buy pegs and drive them with a hammer. Capital takes possession of the ma-chines, added capital lays in immense stocks of leather and other supplies, and employs a few men to turn out sufficient boots and shoes to supmen to turn out sufficient boots and shoes to sup-ply the whole community. In the meantime, what becomes of the country shoemaker? At first he finds that the demand for his labor falls off and he ceases to employ apprentices or others, and later he finds his own time chiefly occupied ith repairing. He becomes a "repairer."

The New Orleans Picayune sees other evils connected with the progress of laborsaving machinery. Men are driven from their trades, small factories are broken up, and men remain unemployed because there is no work for them. The situation will be unendurable when machinery invades new fields and completely fills the old ones. When we reach that point there will be very little room for human labor. Heretofore we have not seen the worst evils because the work of machinery has been comparatively limited, but we are concentrating our inventive powers upon the pr labor-saving machinery with such successful results that the limits of safety will soon be overstepped, and millions of toilers will find that their labor is not in demand even at starvation wages.

Of course the answer will be made that new fields of labor are all the time opening, but is there not a limit? When machinery does nearly all the work, and the masses are forced to do nothing, what will follow?

A Flexible Constitution.

The people are rapidly coming to the con clusion that our federal constitution is a flexible instrument. It means one thing one day, and quite another thing the next.

It confuses the farmers when they are told that it is unconstitutional for the government to loan them money. They know that the government loaned millions of dollars to the Northern Pacific railroad, the centennial syndicate, the New Orleans cotton exposition syndicate, and the Columbian exposition, and they know that there is a bill ending in congress to loan $100,000,000 to the Nicaragua canal syndicate. How is it that these loans are constitutional while loans to the farmers are unconstitutional? Naturally, the farmers are beginning to uspect that the constitution is very liberally construed when syndicates of capitalists want anything, and very strictly construed when the masses ask for help. It is not necessary at this time to consider the merits of the plans for financial relief now before the people. But it is time to wake up to the fact that the opponents of the reforms demanded by the Farmers' Alliance cannot successfully plead the constitution as an obstacle in the way of government loans when it is notorious that it never stands in the way of wealthy syndicates when they desire to borrow money.

The way to defeat any special measure proposed by the alliance is to suggest something better, and the substitute will have to take the shape of substantial financial reform or it will not be considered. The subtreasury or the land-loan plan may be thrown aside, but the people will not be satisfied until they secure a financial system and a volume of currency that will transact the business of the country without being under the control of a few men in Wall street. The goldbug contractionists should understand that it must come to this complexion at last, and while it is in order for them to argue against certain particular plans and letails they will find that their constitutional objections are thoroughly discredited by a long line of precedents. They should show that the financial schemes which they edient, or else hold their peace, if they nothing better to offer. They cannot expand or contract the const themselves.

How to Govern a City. A recent address on the subject of city government, delivered by Colonel A. S. Colyar, of Nashville, is attracting some atten-

Colonel Colvar takes the position that the government of a city should be purely a corporate business matter, with no politics in it. He would not clothe a city government with any of the penal powers of the state, nor would he have any city courts or police. The preservation of order and the punishment of crime should be left to the state authorities. Under such a system the at fairs of the city would be strictly business, conducted as private corporations are con ducted, only the taxpayers being allowed to

In this address an ideal city government is aimed at, but the line of reform suggested is not in touch with the popular idea. At present there is no effort anywhere to curtail the governmental powers of cities, but on the contrary they are endeavoring to make themselves equal to all the demands of local self-government, and are striving to be as independent as possible of the state.

There is much in Colonel Colyar's address that deserves consideration, but its suggestions are not likely to be carried into effect without considerable modification. The administration of some branches of municipal business bears so directly upon the non-taxpaying citizen that he will not readily yield his right of suffrage, and in fact there is no good reason why he should. A tax receipt does not make the holder's integrity and business judgment any better than those of his non-taxpaying neighbor. It is too late in the day to talk about restricting municipal suffrage, and in this particular, at least, Colonel Colyar's proposed system will fall flat.

THERE IS a warm place in the south for all the New England ironworks that want to come here. We trust Mr. Edward Atkinson will not try to keep them away on account of the free coinage of silver.

IF THE Ohio democrats want to fight they is not an off year in Ohio by any means.

THERE ARE no more female rebel clerks in Washington. Mr. Harrison has ejected them all to make room for loyal republicans.

THE PHILADELPHIA editors think that Mr Wanamaker's memory is a bigger thing than the records. Now, if Mr. Wanamaker wasn't such a good man, all the Philadelphia editor would put confidence in the records.

WITH THEIR coal tax the railroads are building a fire that will be a good deal hotte than they bargained for.

THAT GOOD man, John Wanamaker, was s usy looking after the spiritual welfare of Bethany Sunday school that he forgot all about his stock in the Keystone bank. It is on this ground, no doubt, that the esteemed Philadelphia papers refuse to criticize him.

OUR ADVICE to the railroad managers is to keep the coal extortion out of the Georgia legislature. The way to do this is to put the rates back to the old figures.

It may be that the corporations are spoil ing for a midsummer thissle with the empire state. If this is so, they will be accommo-

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

THE JACKSONVILLE, FLA., METROPOLIS VIGORously argues against giving Call his commission as United States senator. It claims that he was oot legally elected, that he is unfit, that he is no the choice of the people, and that under the circumstances Governor Fleming should appoint another man. The Metropolis says: "It is true that the man the governor may appoint as Call's successor will have to possess several qualifications. First, he must have courage to meet every assault. Second, he mus have not only the will, but the ability to work as to man ever labored before. Third, he must have he means, and be willing to expend them, union. Fourth, he must be true to principle and requirements? The Metropolis makes bold to say there is. He is a man who demonstrated his irage, when he assailed Call, who, at that tir great favorite in Florida. He has illustrated tir and again, always to the benefit of Florida, both his ability and willingness to work. He has neve hesitated to use his means both for his state an his party. He has demonstrated that he could av aside his position as the head of his party. He has demonstrated that he could lay aside his position as the head of the party in Florida, after a campaign which made him the idol of the party, in order to avoid all entanglements with the party organization, and, at the risk of 'political damnation, exposed Senator Call's record. The man is W. D. Chipley. It is said Chipley will not accept the place. The Metropolis has reason to believe that he would not accept the senatorship if handed on a silver salver, but Governor Fleming's appointment would not be merely to the high ar and war to the knife, and the knife to the hilt, and Chipley would not hesitate, in our opinion, to ept the contest, even if he resigned the offi the day he wins the fight."

RECEIVER IN CHARGE.

MR. KINGSBERRY IN POSSESSION OF

An Appeal from Judge Clarke's Decisi Will Be Taken—Goods Being Claimed.' The Insurance.

Yesterday morning Mr. Charles S. Kingsberry, the receiver for Stephen A. Ryan, made his bond of $100,000 and took charge of the store. Mr. Kingsberry's bondsmen were: J Kingsberry, E. Kingsberry and J. W.

The receiver called on Mr. Ryan, read the order of the court to him and made formal deand for the various things that the court had directed Mr. Ryan to deliver.

Mr. Byan stated that he had already turned over to the sheriff, while acting as temporary

Mr. Kingsberry speut no small amount of time yesterday in securing insurance on the stock. The order of the court provided that he should insure the goods for $300,000. The temporary receiver had $100,000 of insurance, and this was transferred to Mr. Kingsberry. During the day he secured in addition $72,50 and he will do everything in his power obtain the full amount of insurance ordered by the court. Insurance companies are slow to insure property that is in the hands of re-ceivers, administrators and persons similarly

When the receiver took charge yeste led to have everything nicely duste off and to have the floor well swept. Befor night Ryan's was one of the neatest stores in Atlanta. Everything is well arranged, an the store has the air of a prosperous and well ordered establishment ready for business, lacking only the salesmen and the customers. The shelves are literally packed with goods and the counters are piled with them. In the basement is the clothing department and the stock of shoes. The sidewalk floor is the dry goods establishment, while the carpets are on the second floor. The third floor is used for sewing the carpets, and for similar work. The first thing to be done by the receiver will be the making of an inventory of this entire stock of goods. He will go through carefully, and will be assisted by about a dozen men, or, if he finds he can use more to advantage, may engage as many as twenty-five.

A great many claims for goods will be made by persons who will identify their property and demand it on the ground that it was secured by fraudulent representations made by Mr. Ryan as to his solvency. A number of these cases have already been made, and the receiver has been ordered to set aside such goods and await the order of the court. It is probable that one hundred thousand dollars orth of goods will be claimed in this way.

It is held that if the goods were secured by Mr. Ryan through fraud the sellers can identify their property if still in the store and regain possession, the title never having passed to Mr. Ryan. While the store was in the hands of the temporary receiver a great many goods were examined and identified, but while e temporary receiver was in charge Judge Clarke declined to grant an order allowing the Clarke declined to grant an order allowing the removal of these claimed goods from the stock, but now that a permanent receiver has been appointed, the claims are being pressed. Persons who remove their goods will have to give bond for the return of the goods or the value thereof in each case if the title is not established at the trial. Nearly all the lawyers in the case have some of these claims, but Hillyer & Brother and Hunt & Culberson seem to lead in this branch, as they have Hillyer & Brother and Hunt & Culberson seem to lead in this branch, as they have about twenty-five thousand dollars' worth.

It seems to be settled that there will be an appeal from the decision of Judge Clarke in the Ryan case. The attorneys for Mr. Ryan and the mortgage creditors were busy yesterday collecting all the papers in the case and preparing to present a bill of exceptions. If the case goes to the supreme tourt it cannot be heard possibly before October, and the first question will be as to the disposition of the stock in the meantime. The opinion of a well-informed man is that the receiver will go ahead and dispose of the stock and get the money into bank subject to the order of the court.

Judge Tanner, clerk of the superior court was seen at a late hour last night to ascertain if the papers had been filed. He stated that the papers had not been filed, but that Mr. Ryan's counsel had the papers in the case for the purpose of preparing an appeal to the su-preme court, and that the papers would likely be filed this morning.

The society is not likely to spend money this way. It desires to get as much free work as possible. One reason why the exhibits of the fair has been so poor in recent years is that the society is unwilling to spend money to get up exhibits. Evidently this idea is suggested by local legislation in cities, but it should be borne in mind that egislation is an expensive business, and on the blob none but myneignalities of considerable legislation is an expensive business, and or which none but municipalities of consideral wealth can afford. If one legislature is thought be a burden on the taxpayer, what would be thought of one hundred and thirty-seven legi-tures?

Mr. W. B. Sparks and others interested in the Georgia Southern road have done much toward the development of the country through which that line runs. As one means to this end they es-tablished a model stock and fruit farm on a large scale at a place called Cycloneta. It is only about two years since they started, but the farm is al-ready attracting attention. The Tifton Gazette

"That Colorado desert basin the press dis patches speak of as filling with water from a subterranean passage is a wonderful thing," said a well-known Atlanta man yesterday. "It is in the southwestern end of California, butting up against the Colorado river and Arizona. The Southern Pacific road crosses it. One hundred miles of its track is in the desert. There is absolutely no evidence of life about it except just in the center at a point over two hundred feet below the sea level, where a company mines salt. There ha been no water or vegetation of any kind in the desert. Even the trains have tank cars to carry water for the engines across this sand bed. They also carry tanks of water each day to the salt mines.

"I came through this desert recently. It is simply a bed of loose and ever shifting white sand 100 miles across, sometimes the sand 100 miles across, sometimes the sands blow up ten feet deep on the railroad rack from which it l and again it blows out from under the track allowing it to sink. It has been known to blow so hard in the desert that the sand would actually cut down telegraph poles by constant beating and grinding against them. There is no danger of anybody being drowned by this basin filling with neither man nor animal lives in it. The only loss will be to the railroad. It perhaps migh lose nearly a hundred miles of track and be forced to build anew around the basin. But water there will make the lands around it fertile and valuable. They are now worth-ernment in Canada. Canadian unfriendliness has been manifested in another direction. Last year, through Mr. Bond, the legislature of New Foundland negotiated a treaty with the Newfoundland which we were granted the freedom of their ports in return for a free market. When the Canadian premier heard of this, he cabled the ome government, protesting lagainst a confir mation of the treaty.

The protest goes on to say: By the adoption of the tariff measure, which is popularly known as the McKinley act, the cus-toms duties of the United States are greatly inreased on nearly all Canadian products, (in ing fresh fish, unless caught in vessels or by nets owned by American citizens. While this measure is in force and is avowed to be designed to teach Canadians that they cannot avail themselves of the markets of the United States while they con tinue their allegiance as British subjects, a sepa-rate arrangement with Newfoundland would practically dissolve the protection given by the reaty of 1818, by enabling American fishing ves sels to have access to the ports of Newfour as a base of supplies and for the purpose of shipping their cargoes. pay enhanced duties under the new America ariff.
While this would, perhaps, be the most effectual method of impressing on the minds of the Canadian people the lesson that they cannot be British subjects and enjoy American markets, her majesty's government can hardly, on reflection. feel surprised that your excellency's government has not for a moment believed that her majesty's ministers would co-operate/with the authorities of the United States in inculcating such a lesson at the present time.

The administration of the United States has long been aware that the government of Canad is willing to enlarge the trade relations between the two countries by a system of reciprocity Canada has been constantly accused by public men in the United States of adopting a severe pol-icy in asserting her fishery rights in order to force negotiations for the extension of trade. Her maj ssty's principal secretary of state for the colmay, perhaps, with propriety, be reminded, on this occasion, that the complaint constantly pu forward against Canada in the United States i that Canada denies hospitality in her ports to

This plea for the use of the United States as a pasturage from which Canadian statesmen may draw sustenance, is well answered in the following words by Secretary Blaine: I don't believe there is a citizen of the United States from one end of the country to the other that envies the people of the dominion all the prosperity they may attain. The greater prosperity she may attain, the better for who are trading with her. I wish them God-speed. But, so far as I can help it, I'do not mean that they shall be Canadians and Americans at one and the same time. They can choose their side of the question and remain over there. We will obey all laws toward them. We will maintain all treaties with them. We will stand faithfully by our word, in letter and spirit, we will treat them as neighbors and in peace as friends— men descended from the same British isles that the vast majority of citizens of the United States are—but I repeat that we don't love them well enough to invite them in to sit down at our hearth stones, and take part of that which belongs to our own fireside and our own children.

P. J. MORAN. A CARD FROM GOVERNOR NORTHEN About the Requisition in the Stephen A.

Ryan Case. In yesterday's Constitution, in an article oncerning the rumor that a requisition was to be taken out in the Ryan case, Governor Northen was put in the attitude of having made certain promises to Mr. Ryan's attorneys.

This card'explains itself:
ATLANTA, Ga., July 1.—Editor Constitution:
For the purpose of correcting some statements made in your issue of this date, let me say that I have not had any interview with any attorney representing Mr. Ryan. I certainly have not promised to notify Mr. Ryan or his attorney if requisition papers are received at my office.

W. J. NORTHEN.

Both Mr. Walter R. Brown and Mr. Albert H. Cox corroborate this fully. These gentlemen say that an injustice was done their client and themselves, in that "one of Mr. Ryan's attorneys" was quoted as making the objectionable statement.

The Constitution's information was from an outside source. Neither Mr. Cox nor Mr. Brown was interviewed. The account was given to The Constitution substantially as ti appeared yesterday, and could not be veri-fied or denied before the paper went to press. The statement should have been used, if at all, only as a rumor. Neither of Mr. Ryan's attorneys was in any way authority for the statements used, as neither was seen.

THE WANT OF A BAND SEBMS TO HAVE CREATED DISSATIS

A Newspaper Man Attacked-Camp Chicks manga Is Quiet This Week-News of the Soldiers.

CHICKAMAUGA, July 1.—[Special.]—Camp Chickamauga is hardly recognizable, so marked a change has been wrought by the change of troops. Last week was one of the gayest o the gay. This week promises to be just the opposite. The soldier boys now here are anything but ballroom beaux and bloods as a generality. They are sturdy fellows who wear uniforms like regulars. The Ninth regiment, in many respects, maintains its existence under trying circumstances being scattered all over the state, from Gaines ville and Rome to LaGrange and Stephens Pottery, and consequently has not the best op portunity for battalion or regimental improve ment. Many companies, too, are from the smaller cities of the state, where the military spirit is not as enthusiastic as it is in the large cities, and consequently the boys enter camp fully realizing its im portance to them and determined to make the best of it. The first day has shown they are not here for foolishness, and be it said to their credit, that their natural aptness has already put them upon an equal scale of proficincy in regimenal maneuvers with any of the troops

Captain Field was agreeably suprised at the batalion drill this morning, the first the troops had ever engaged in. He paid them a high compliment, saying that consider ing this fact, it was the best he had ever witof the Ninth regiment, has shown wonderful dress parade this afternoon was as pretty as could have been desired.

Speaking of the band brings up the situation of the camp as to music. As already stated, the Zouave band left for Atlanta at the conclusion of Colonel Wiley's command, leaving the camp without any music but the bugle and drum. Why the band left is not precisely understood, but there is one thing certain Colonel Jones is being very severely criticises in a quiet way among the troops in the camp, as well as by visitors, for failing to provide a were perfectly willing to pay for a band, and one. As the cantain of one of companies expresses it, the absence music knocks all the poetry of camp life, and it does. Bright uniforms and gallant faces de not show up half so well, moving to "Hayfoot Strawfoot," as to the inspiring strains of 'Dixie," or something of that sort. The tameness of dress parade, guard mount, and so forth, without a band, is like champagne without the phiz.

The Captains Act.

This morning the captains of several of the companies got together and took the matte n their own hands. They feel very keenly the situation, and at any cost determined to get a band for the review by the governor tomorrow. They feel that it would be next to disgrace for the regiment to offer itself in review without a band, and this evening a delegation went down to Rome to see if a band could not be gotten there for this occasion at least. While Colonel Jones is criticised, the Zouave band, which has been here all along, also comes in for a round of censure. Colonel Jones's explanation is that the band did not even offered to give $50 more per week than Colonel Mercer or Colonel Wiley had paid; but Professor Marston wouldn't stay. When this unreasonable disposition on the part of the band became manifest, it is said that Colonel Jones got his whiskers up and broke off all negotiations by cussing out the entire musical aggregation. The colonel feels offended that the band question should have gotten into the papers, because he thinks it wil create a bad impression of his regiment, but the situation has amounted to a camp sensation, especially since the colonel has been s openly criticised by the troops today for ago. Before leaving Professor Marston told me that his reason for so doing was because he and Colonel Jones could not reach an agreement, but as Colonel Jones contradicts this with the statement that he offered $300, where the band had only been receiving $250, it remains an open question. Professor Marston says his band will come back during Atlanta week, which makes it appear a little strange that he would not consent to remain. The regiment generally does not think the Zouave band has treated them right and unless Professor Marston can show good reasons for leaving them "in the soup," his name will be 'mud" so far as the Ninth regiment can make it so. Colonel Jones telegraphed for the Fourth artillery band from Ft. McPherson today but it could not be secured. Down to Work. This morning the boys got down to regular camp discipline and from all indications it will be willingly observed throughout the en-tire week. The rules published by the adjutant and posted in every messhall for the government of the camp are practically identical with the rules laid down by Colonel Mercer during the first week and which I have already given to the readers of encampment news. It was a fine day, with cool breezes blowing constantly, and the boys went through the various drills with a snap and enthusiasm impossible during the excessive heat of last week. At 10 o'clock in the morning a meeting o company commanders was held at Adjutant Satterlee's headquarters for the purpose of dis-cussing the morning reports. This is a very important part of camp routine, and Lieuten-ant Satterlee took occasion to explain it fully to the assembled officers. An exact record of each man's time in camp is kept in these reports, which are consolidated at the end of the week and used as the basis of the payments of per diem. One of the interesting facts brought out by the eutenant's explanation was that cooks allowed per diem as well as regular enlisted men. At the conclusion of this discussion, with the distribution of report blanks, Captain Field took charge of the officers and gave them a very valuable talk on guard mounting and the duties of guard in general. Captain and the duties of guard in general. Captain Field is an invaluable man in a militia camp Tomorrow Governor Northen and staff will make their regular visit to the camp, and the usual review will camp, and the usual review will he held, with accompanying festivities at the hotel in the evening. It is very likely that the sham battle feature of governor's day will be omitted, not because, as one man remarked, "they are afraid to trust us with blank cartridges," but because there are none on hand to use, though Colonel Jones is en-deavoring to get some.

Everybody is looking forward with eagerness to the coming of the Atlanta and Augusta boys. Many of the visitors here have gone home to rest up for that week, when they will return to witness the best spectacle of the encampment, and participate in the gayeties. The Atlanta boys ought to feelingly complimented over the interest their coming is stirring up. The Chattanoogs and Rome belies are saving their sweetest smiles for them, and these, with the delegations from Atlanta and Augusta, will make the week one of brill-iant success. All branches of the service—in-fantry, cavairy and artillery, with the zouaves, too—will be here Atlanta week, and the sham battles and other events will be magnificent

This afternoon Walter Howard, correspondent for The Atlanta Journal, was the victim of a murderous assault by Frank Ozburn, a mountain hercules, who is a terror in these parts. Ozburn used a keen-bladed knife, and but for Howard's desperate defense he would undoubtedly have been seriously hurt, if not on his throat before Ozburn could be disarmed. A warrant, charging Ozburn with assault with attempt to kill, has been sworn out, and he will be arrested as soon as the sheriff, who has been notified, can reach Chickamauga and capture him. Howard is probably bruised up, but not seriously. The assault caused a sensation about the camp and hotel, and much in dignation was aroused. Ozburn is a desperate character, having shot his own cousin and being implicated in other affairs of like nature. The details of today's encounter are as fol-

Last Thursday some words passed between Howard and Ozburn during the sham battle. Ozburn was drunk and Howard protested against the language which he used in speak-ing of the soldier boys. Ozburn then drew a knife, but was disarmed by Captain Ledbetter, and it was thought there would be nothing grudge against Mr. Howard, and has been seen dogging him several times A day or two ago he was in the act of hurling a big rock at him when prevented by a bystander. This afternoon Howard entered the depot waiting room to buy a ticket for Chattanooga. The room was empty at the moment, but as soon as he entered Ozburn and Charlie Simmons, another stout countryman, came to the only door leading to the platform. Ozburn said he had come to have Simmons, whom he said was his son, whip Howard for what he said last Thursday. Howard replied that he was willing to give which was just pulling out, and so approached When he got in reach Ozburn dealt him a fearful blow on the head without any warning. Howard retaliated, and for a few moments had the best it, when Ozburn whipped out a knife and it, when Ozburn whipped out a knife and lunged at him. The newspaper man succeeded in knocking the knife out of his hand. People around the depot did not attempt to interfere, but trainmen came to the Atlanta boy's assistance and overpowered the big mountaineer.

As Howard started towards the hotel, Ozburn got free from the crowd and struck him again on the head before he was aware of a renewal of the attack. Mr. Howard is not the jugular vein, the skin covering which was scratched by the keen blade. Mr. Howard, as scratched by the Keen blade. Mr. Howard, as well as friends here, will see that Ozburn is prosecuted for his cowardly assault, as he should be. He is a troublesome citizen and good people of this, Walker county, would be glad to be rid of him. E. M. DURANT.

Going to Chickamauga. The governor leaves for Chickamangs to day, returning this evening. The trip is made to review the troops in camp there this week. Colonel Milledge also goes to Chickamauga this evening. He will remain there until his ommand goes into camp next Tuesday.

NEWS OF SOCIETY.

TOME EVENTS THAT ARE INTEREST-ING THE SOCIETY WORLD.

ats and Personals—Weddings Announce and Hinted At—A Wedding in New Orleans—People Here and There.

A rather mixed up rumor reached me concerning the engagement of a certain young man from Virginia who has recently made his home here, and whose honored name and individual attractions have been the means of bringing him many charming social hours. I have heard him variously accredited with being affianced to a beautiful woman of his own state, to a handsome and extremely cultured girl on Peachtree, and also to one of the bells and beauties on the North side. The rumors seem most rife about the Peachtree belles, but just which one is positively true, or whether any of them are, is rather hard to tell. A rather mixed up rumor reached me

Speaking of engagements brings me to that of two Atlanta people which had a rather sad and decidedly unique termination at a certain well-known resort some weeks ago. The young man's sweetheart and his sister were at the place together—both girls alike in height and complexion.

A devoted friend of the aweetheart goes out in search of her at dark, steals up behind her by the sad sea waves, throws his arms passionately around her and calls her name.

The figure throws back the lace about her head, and behold—the face of the other girl—the fiance's sister. No explanations were satisfactory.
One of the handsomest diamond rings that ever distenced on a fair white finger had to be returned, and its wearer says it is perfectly shameful that just because he found out she loved another man It's fortunate, however, for the rich fellow, and far better for both, that such a state of affairs should have reached; a denoument before marriage.

It seems to me if I were one of those rich fellows in question and I had won the rather tardy hand of the woman I loved, I should leave no stone untursed in finding out the state of her emotions.

The trouble is, however, that love is so utterly blind and self-absorbed and that a woman's con-Sent to marry a man means to him her love also It ought to mean this, but it doesn't always.

Miss Louis Porter is now in Hapeville visiting relatives and she will, during her summer vaca-tion, spend some time in Atlanta, dividing the stay between the homes of her friends, Mrs. Livingston Mims and Mrs. Rhode Hill. Miss Porter has many warm friends and admirers here who are proud of her dramatic success, and will be delighted to see her again in cial life of the city which she graced by her presence in the past.

Two interesting society items come to me from New Orleans. The first is one that will be of great interest to many people here in Atlanta, for it concerns the engagement of a gentleman who has for several years made Atlanta his home, and who has very many friends here. A friend in the Crescent City sends me the following clipping from last Sunday's Times-Democrat:

"The engagement is announced in the eastern papers of Mr. Frederic Jewett Cooke and Miss annie Snow, of New York, the marriage to take place in the fall upon Miss Snow's return from Europe."

Mr. Cooke is now a resident of New Orleans. have not the pleasure of the acquaintance of the young lady in the case, but I am sure she must be beautiful and charming. Many Atlanta friends will hasten to extend to Mr. Cooke their congratu-

The other New Orleans item is the marriage there of Mr. Forest B. Spink, an old Atlanta man who is prominent in New Orleans railroad circles, where he has made an enviable reputation. The bride was Miss Bessie Cartwright, daughter of W. M. Cartwright, of San Francisco. The weading occurred Monday evening last at St. Stanis-laus church, which had been decorated beautifully for the occasion. At 8 o'clock, as the weading march pealed out, the bridal party walked allowly up the aisle. First, the ushers, Messrs. S. P. Murphy, C. I. Emmet, R. E. Perry and S. A. Newman: then the groomsmen, Messrs. P. Lynch, of Cincinnai; W. M. Bellin ger, R. Martenez, and E. J. Gannon of Chicago. Then came the bridesmaids, Misses Gertrude Thompson, Nellie Lester, Alice Wallick, and Grace Minden, in costumes of cream alls milk mill over China silk triumed in loce with silk muli over China silk, trimmed in lace, with broad cream silk sashes. Then followed the maid of honer, Miss Lillian Carleton, who was dressed similar to the bridesmaids. The bride entered on similar to the bridesmaids. The bride entered on the arm of her father. She wore an exquisite costume of "Etoile de Leyon" silk, trimmed pro-fusely with chiffon. Bunches of orange blossoms and lilies of the valley were her only ornaments. They were met at the altar by the groom, Mr. Forest B. Spink, and his best man, Mr. J. McStea. The ceremony took place under a "lover's knot," Rev. J. P. Lelegate officiating.

After the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the residence of Mrs. McStea, where, with a few friends, they were most elegantly entertained hntil a late hour.

Mr. Spink and his bride left for the north, and visit his old home, Atlanta, on the trip.

A brilliant wedding occurred at the Meth-dist church in Monticello last night. Colonel W. P. Davis and Miss Alice Newton were the contracting parties, and the Rev S. A. Burney, of Madison, performed the ceremony. Miss Newton was attreed in white silk, with the regulation bridal trail and veil. Twelve bridesmaids, six in pink and six in blue, attended the bride. Twelve greomsmen waited upon the groom.

The decorations were of the rarest flowers wrought in appropriate designs. The march was played by Professor Cornwell, of Macon. Imliately after the ceremony the bridal party went to the elegant home of Captain L. W. cent to the elegant nome of Captain L. W. tobert, the guardian of the bride, where a deghtful reception was given. The presents were unserous and costly. The young ladies of the "S. L. D.," the cooking club of Calhoun, entertained a few of their young men friends at one of the club's regular meetings at the residence of Major G. W. The members present were: Misses Nettie Wells, May Haynes, Agnes Tinsley, May Hudgins, Laura Haynes, Laura Mathews, Mattle Humphrey and Mamie Bass. The young men were: Messrs. J. A. Hall. M. A. Mathews, J. W. Logan, W. B. Haynes, John Cantrell, W. W. Wilson and R. M. Harbin.

A camping party left Calhoun Monday for Cohutta Bprings, to spend ten days, chaperoned by Mrs. G. M. Hunt. The merry party consisted of Misses Mattie and Bettle Boyd, Bessie and Bertle Fain, Lizzie and Kathleen Johnston, Fannie Fields, Bersha Norton, Dell Bittings and Mrs. Hunt. Messrs. J. C. Mr. Edgar Dunlap, with his sister, Miss Fannie unlap, left last evening for an extended triporth. They go by Savannah to New York, thence Boston, Saratoga, Niagara and other points of terest before their return.

Miss Julia Mattison is visiting friends at ickens, S. C. She will be absent from the city bout two months, and will visit friends at Green ille, S. C., Norcross and other places before re araing to the city.

FAIN CAN BE FOUND. He Is Not the Tailor, But a Hack

Driver. No one appears to know Henry Fain, the negro hack driver who disclosed the contem-plated plot to raise a row around Washing-ton's gallows if the hanging was public. For six or eight years be has been a hack driver and every day can be seen around the nion depot.

Fain is about five feet eight inches high and will weigh one hundred and eighty pounds, about. He is a ginger-cake color and is well known in Atlanta, notwithstanding the declaration of some to the contrary.

For several days past he has been wearing on his back a military coat and unless pre-on his back a military coat and unless prevented by his superior officers will be found in the parade when it comes off.

After asserting to an afternoon paper that he had never said wat whas attributed to him in Tran Constitution yesterday morning he subsequently said to a Constitution reporter:

"Of course I said it all but I didn't mean any harm."

THE CONSTITUTION never once thought that Fain voiced the good colored people of Atlanta when he made that incendiary talk. Atlanta has colored citizens who feel outraged and ia-when he made that incendiary talk. Atlanta has colored citizens who feel outraged and iacensed at what Fain said and justly so too.

If any one who don't know Fain wants to see him it will be easy to gratify the desire—just visit the hack stand any day and ask for him. Here are two cards touching the matter; one is from the reporter who wrote the story and to the accuracy and truthfulness of which he has reputable witnesses who were present when Fain made the declaratio. The other is from F. H. Crumbly, adjutant of the Second Georgia battalion. Connolly is one of Atlanta's most reputable negroes.

ATLANTA, Ga., July 1.—In reference to a plot discovered among the negroes, I wish to state that I was assigned the story by the city editor of THE CONSTITUTION, as I was personally unknown to the negro who was doing the talking. Repairing to a barroom the negro frequented, Henry Fain was pointed out to me as the person who was making the threats of trouble on the day of Washington's hanging. Without knowing my object Fain was induced to repeat his story, in presence of witnesses, and from his conversation I gathered the information embodied in the article in yesterday's Constitution, which was presented in print as he told it. In addition to this he made other threats of this date under the head of "Threats of this date under the head of "Threats of this date under the head of "Threats of Minder," in giving a conversation which took place yesterday in a Decatur street barroom by one Henry Fain, it is stated, speaking of an organized mob to prevent the execution of George Washington on the 3d instant, which mob or organization seems to be located in or about Decatur street, that "Those taking part in the meetings are members of colored military companies and armons miles and armons and armons

"Those taking part in the meetings are members of colored military companies, and among which Washington has friends."

I have the honor to state that a careful investigation or canvass among the men of the Second Georgia battalion, commanded by Lieutenant Colonel Thomas Grant, which includes all the local military, does not justify the reflection attempted to be made on us as military men. We have a higher sense of honor to ourselves and duty toward the laws of the land than to enter into any such conspiracy against the institutions of law under which we hope to be protected as are all other citizens. There may be differences of opinion with regard to the execution of Ozburn and Washington, yet I know full well that I voice the sentiment of 99 per cent of the colored military when I say that we will not enter into any conspiracy as military men against the government; and while I have not conferred with Colonel Grant, I can safely say that the colonel will carefully investigate the rumor; and if it is true that H. Fain is a member of the military, and is guilty of such conduct to the prejudice of good order and military discipline, the adjutant general and inspector general of the state will be requested to detail a court that he may be courtmartialed. We desire that all persons; would understand and regard us as men capable of fostering the highest principles of American citizenship, our interests being icentical with that of other citizens. We dislike, as military men or citizens, that importance be given the drunkard at the counter, and the whole race equalized and classed with or by the conduct of the most inferior of the race.

First Lieutenant and Adjutant Second Georgia Battalion, Colored.

The Fain who made the talk is not Fain the tailor.

-Examining the Papers. Examining the Papers.

Dr. J. B. Hunnicutt, Mr. Hamilton Douglas and Mr. Albert Howell, the committee having charge of the competitive examination for the West Point cadetship, are hard at work examining the papers. Each gentleman will separately examine each paper, and then a meeting will be held to decide the best of the lot. It will be several days before a conclusion is reached, and in the meantime the applicants and their friends are in a state of suspense.

1. They desire for themselves, their associates, successors and assigns to be constituted a body corporate under the name of

and by that name to acquire, hold and enjoy all the rights, powers and privileges incident to such body corporate or conferred upon it by the statutes of said state.

2. The object of the corporation is to be pecuniary gain and profit to its stockholders, and the business to be carried on by it is the printing, publishing and conducting of a German newspaper in the city of Atlanta, Ga., and to do job printing and all such other things as pertain to, or are usually done by, a newspaper office.

3. The capital stock shall be one thousand dollars ($1,000), divided into forty shares of twenty-five dollars seach, all of which is to be paid in before cammencing business; and petitioners desire the right to increase said capital stock to any amount, not exceeding ten thousand dollars, by a direct vote of three-fourths of the stock, at a special meeting called for that purpose.

4. The chief office and place of business shall, be in the said city of Atlanta. The business shall be managed by a board of directors of five stockholders, elected annually at the annual meeting to be held for organization after the granting of a charter. The board shall elect from its members a president, a sec retary and a treasurer, and may make rules and by laws.

Wherefore said petitioners pray an order of said court declaring this application granted and themselves incorporated as aforesaid, for and during the term of twenty years, with the privilege of renewal.

STARVING HIMSELF.

DEBURYS OWN PLAN OF CHEATING

Dr. Griffe Talks About It-It May Be Nece sary to Use Force—A Talk with the Condemned Man.

Orburn is trying to starve himself to death. So his physicians say. But he will find it a difficult task, as the cal men have determined to keep him slive if possible.

Since last Sunday Ozburn has steadily re fused to eat a meal. The most tempting dishes have been given him, but he either ignored them or barely touched the food, and if he ate at all he would vomit.

Tuesday night Dr. Griffin made the remark that at the present rate Ozburn would hardly live five days longer.
Dr. Alexander visited the doomed man yes-

br. Alexander visited the doorsed than yes-terday afternoon, and remained with him for a considerable length of time, examining care-A half of a spring chicken, two eggs, some biscuit and a cup of coffee had been carried him some hours before. They were brought back barely touched. The mouthful, which Ozburn had eaten, was not retained. When Dr. Alexander called, Bradley's slayer lay with a mustard plaster on his stomach. It had been prescribed by Dr. Griffin in response to complaints of pain.

After feeling of his pulse again and asking questions, the physician left the cell, ained in the hall of the jail a few minutes before leaving.
"That man's trying to starve himself," he

And then turning around to Mr. John Faith,

"Can't you get him to eat at all?" "Mr. Miller is about the only man who has ever been able to coax him into it. Then promises of a toddy are the main inducepromises of a toddy a ments," was the reply.

alse whisky, if that will induce him. A drink won't hurt him anyway. At any rate, get him to eat even a part of a meal, and rate, get him to eat even a part of a hear, and see that he retains it," said the doctor.

"That's the trouble," put in Mr. Faith.

"He no sooner gets through with a light breakfast or dinner than he pokes his finger down his throat and forces himself to vomit."

"Keep some one always with him then," said Dr. Alexander. "A little food each day, digested, will make him good for twenty-four ays yet. But if you can't make him eat, and can't make him retain the little that passes his lips, tell him that we'll force it into him. Beef tea administered will be nourishment that he can't vomit."

"This will be the last resort," said the physician as he arose to leave, "but perhaps a necessary one. I'll be around again early in the morning."

How He Spent the Day. It was 8 or 9 o'clock when Mr. Couch, a revenue man, who has been a faithful attendant of Ozburn, called at his cell.

He brushed it up and put it in a very presentable condition. The condemned man lay, watching every motion. When Mr. Couch watching every motion. When Mr. Couch had finished he sat down by Ozburn's cot, and, after a moment's silence, said:

"Do you ever pray, Charlie?"
"No," he grunted.
"Well, you ought to. Your time is getting to be mighty short,"
"My time short?" he said, starting up;
"what are they going to do with me?"
"Hang you."

"Hang you."
"What for?"

"For killing a man."
"I never killed any one," he said.
"Yes, you did," stated Mr. Couch, "you fired six balls into one. They're going to break your neck for it, too."
To this there was no response. For several minutes both, reprised a refeel.

To this there was no response. For several minutes both remained perfectly quiet. The silence was broken by Mr. Couch.

"Do you believe in a God?" asked he.

"Yes," drawled forth the doomed man, "I reckon so."

"Do you believe in a hell?"

"Don't know," he replied indifferently.

"Well, you'd better get forgiveness. If you don't you'll surely go there."

This was answered with a grunt. Ozburn then turned his face to the wall and closed his syes.

In this way Mr. Couch left him.

THAT TWO PER CENT DISCOUNT. 8117,134.15 of City Taxes Paid in and the Discount Stopped. If you haven't paid your city tax you will not get the benefit of the 2 per cent discount which is allowed on the first $125,000 of city taxes paid in.

This morning the 2 per cent discount was leclared off. The amount of taxes paid in up to last night did not reach $125,000, however, the amount being 117,134.15.

Mr. Rice, chairman of the finance mmittee, said yesterday that it had been the custom for some time to allow this discount in order to get money enough in the treasury to meet expenses. After July 1st, however, the 2 per cent discount was discontinued, as the city licenses began to come in, and there was no longer any

The amount paid in up to July 1st, this year, is $117,134.15, and that, with the city license money, is amply sufficient to run the city government.
"Therefore," said Mr. Rice, "we deem it to reach nearly fifty million dollars, an increase over last year of about five million dollars. This is said to be a conservative estimate, and as the figures represent an increase that is nearly equal the entire value of taxable property in three average counties in the state, the marvelous growth of Atlanta, when the bulk of the increased value is found, can be appresized.

Two Suits for Divorce.

Yesterday N. N. Blair entered suit for divorce from Minnie Blair. He declared that they were married in 1886 and separated the 12th of June, just ended. She would go to his butcher shop, so he averred, throw the meat on the floor, make things lively in various ways, fire him out and lock him out, and also lock him out of his home.

Eliza Hall entered suit for divorce from Walter Hall.

This is the committee's report, which was adopted:
Your committee is at a loss as to what course to recommend in regard to making an exhibit at the "World's Columbian Fair" at Chicago.
The present prospect is that no appointment will be made by the state.
Hence, if we desire to make an exhibit, we shall have to bear our own expenses.
A movement is on foot looking to a union of Tennessee, Alabama and Georgia in a common exhibition building. Should Georgia agree to this, then the way is open for us; but if Georgia fails to take part in this building, then our only chance would be to arrange with Tennessee and Alabama, if we can, for space in their building. We should very much regret for our state to fail to take part in such a rare opportunity for setting her resources properly before the world.
Hence we feel that it would not be amiss for this society to memorialize the legislature and send a delegation before the legislature committee to urge the matter upon them.
Respectfully suinwitted. o urge the matter upon them. Respectfully submitted,

Where Will We Go for the Summer? Where Will We Go for the Summer?

As the heated term approaches this question occupies the minds of the public, and to aid our readers in deciding it, we propose in a brief article to give a few pointers as to the resorts reached by the picturesque Baltimore and Ohio railroad.

Leaving Cincinnati via the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern railroad, a journey of a day, or a night, brings the traveler to the summit of the Alleghanies where Oakland, Mountain Lake Park and Deer Park is a favorite a favorite of the favorite of the summit of the summit of the summit of the control of the summit of the summ nd Deer Park are located. Deer Park is a favo spot for statesmen and men noted in science and literature. It was there that ex-President Cleveland took his bride, and President Harrison lo cated his summer capital. The nights are always cool, the surrounding scenery unsurpassed, and the hotel appointment and cuisine of the best quality.

In the Valley of the Shenandoah, Virginia, were enacted some of the most thrilling incidents of the late war, and at its head stands Harper's Ferry and old John Brown's fort. Aside from its historic interest, in this valley are located an innumerable chain of springs of variable medicinal and chemical qualities, which combined with the pure air of the mountains, the beautiful scenery and the comforts of the hotels, leaves little for the invalid or the pleasure hunter to wish for. The principal of these springs are Berkeley, Capon, Orkney, Rawley, Stribling and Rockbridge baths, also the wonderful Luray Caverns. Atlantic City, Long Branch and other ocean beaches on the New Jersey coast are easily reached by direct rail connections with the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, while Bar Harbor, the White moun-tains and other New England resorts are reached via the Poughkeepsie Bradge route, the new Bos-con line of the Baltimore and Ohio, and the only way by which one can reach the farther New England points without a transfer through Bos-

THE NEW YORK, STOCK MARKET.

Exchange. NEW YORK, July 1.—In the stock market today the semand from shorts which were forced to cover yesterday, ceased, and higher figures met with a supply of stocks which for a moment checked the upward movement, though no reaction was seen even when the mar-ket settled down into the old dullness. London was still buyer to a limited extent, and the continued weak ness in exchange neutralized the influence of further gold export, and the prevailing sentiment was decidedly bullish. There never was a time when July settlements were carried through with so little disturbance of loans, and rates for money today were phenomenally low for such a time. This is one of the principal sustaining forces in the market at present, and whatever causes the hesitation of huyers in the stock market. the the hesitation of buyers in the stock market, the money question is evidently not a factor. The movements of the last few days go to prove that shorts are easily driven to cover, are nervous and not at all sure of their ground, and it only remains for a vigorous paign on the bull side, under a competent leader campaign on the bull side, under a competent leader, to bring in the foreigners. The hopes of the bulls are therefore so high at present that the distribution of interest and dividends now being made will be followed by a material demand for all sorts of securities. The opening this morning was decidedly strong, and Louisville and Nashville was 1½ per cent higher than last evening, while the rest of the list showed gains of from ½ to ½ per cent. New selling by the trading element checked the rise, however, and even forced some declines in the railroad list, but these were afterward fully recovered, with something in addition. Industrial fully recovered, with something in addition. Indus-trials came to the front with the increasing dullness in ad stocks, and rumors in regard to Sugar with railroad stocks, and rumors in regard to Sugar with the granting of an injunctian against the payment of a dividend resulted in a decline of 2½ per cent, which, however, was afterward practically covered, while Cordage scored a substantial improvement for the day. Among the specialties there were a few marked advances, and Louisville, New Albany and Chicago rose from 28% to 23½c, and Colorado Coal and Tennessec Coal each 1 per cent. Among the railroad stocks, only St. Paul, which contributed 31,135 shares to the day's total of 154,313 shares of listed stocks, and Louisville, Atchison and Buriington showed any animation, and Atchison and Burlington showed any animation, and fluctuations in the general list were confined to the limits usual during the month. The market finally off slightly in the afternoon, closing barely steady at insignificant changes for the day in most stocks. Sales of listed stocks, 154,000 shares; unlisted, 22,000 shares. shares. hange quiet and weak at 486½@488; commercial 88¼@487¼.

NEW YORK, July 1.—The London market for Amercans was exceptionally strong today. Louisville and Mashville was in demand at 1 per cent higher than on ulosing yesterday and St. Paul was also eagerly sought for at ½ per cent above.

The buying by the Europeans amounted to about 20,000 shares or equal to about one and a half million dollars. The market here was very strong and fully kept so from the strength from the other side.

The short interest abroad in Americans has been large and their buying of late has no doubt been the closing up of some contracts, but unless all signs [41] its parts [41].

closing up of some contracts, but unless all signs fail it seems that a revival of confidence in our stocks has again taken hold of the Europeans and that they will take our securities more liberally in the future than they have done in the past. The exchange market was very weak all day and sterling bills can be bought of the continue of the conti sing up of some contracts, but unless all signs fail it ms that a revival of confidence in our stocks has tation had been that at least 25,000 bales of cotton would be delivered, but only 5,200 bales were tendered. The result was a surprised market and an extreme advance of from 460-54d, which, however, was not maintained to the close, the final prices being 261 points above last evening's. Sales on the spot were 12,000 bales. The conspicuous feature of the Liverpool market has been the comparative strength of the near positions and the better demand for the actual article, which is an evidence of increased confidence in cotton at present prices on the part of distinctly stronger parties than have previously been purchasers. Here the market opened at advance of from 762 points, declined 364 points, and again improved, closing finally quiet but steady at 667 points advance on the near positions and 666 on the distant. Here, as in Liverpool, the aspect of the position is changed by the near positions and 5@56 on the distant. Here, as in Liverpool, the aspect of the position is changed by the comparative strength in the near positions, and the difference between August and September has at times today been only II points, against 14@16 previously. The demand for the distant positions has not been so active, as the crop seems to be doing well generally throughout the south, and copious rains are reported in nearly every southern state during the past 28 hours. Some of the buying of August and September today is reported to be against prospective shipment of our New York stock, and, as an early reduction in its total is looked for, the market appears, now about evenly balanced. Cables are nearly unanimous in reporting a decided improved feeling in trade circles in Manchester, while southern advices leave no room for doubt that the crop outlook has decidedly improved during the past month.

Lehman Bros. Cotton Letter.

NEW YORK, July 1—Liverpool this morning was just the reverse of the past few days, and in response to our decline of yesterday was this morning fully 2-64d higher, our friends cabing us that the marke has advanced in consequence of deliveries being smaller than anticipated, the near months showing by far the greater strength. Our market here in response opened at an advance of 466 points, and with moderate machantons held stendy through the balance of the Lehman Bros.' Cotton Letter. ate fluctuations held steady through the balance of the day. Business was exceedingly moderate in all direc day. Business was exceedingly moderate in all direc-tions. Crop accounts continue generally favorable, leaving little room for any permanent advance, while, however, reactions are always in order, especially at these low figures. Without wishing to express any positive views we accordingly merely say that we con-sider it far better to buy on soft apots than to follow any other course for the time being at least.

THE CHICAGO MARKET. Features of the Speculative Movement in Grain and Provisions. CHICAGO, July 1 .- Wheat opened weak and lower nd the situation for a time seemed wholly in the bears favor, but deliveries on July contracts were very light, in fact, almost nothing, and it was found that, as weak as the market appeared to be, there was little or no pressure to sell. Soon there was some picking up of December, and corn made a splurge causing an advance which brought out free offerings, both in the way of realizing on purchases made early and also in the way of short selling, and there was a drop in values. A cablegram from Berlin told of indications of a corner in late. orner in July. Prices remained rather steady with a light business passing until within a few minutes of the close, when the shorts took fright, probably on rumors of a corner abroad, and amid some excitement rumors of a corner abroad, and amid some excitement rushed to cover, putting prices to the highest point of the day, the market closing firm. July opened at $20.00 and closed at $21.00; December opened at $7.50 @87% c and closed at $25.00. Corn developed a good deal of strength and kept it to the end. There was a growing uneasiness on the patt of the shorts and increased eagerness to cover. Offerings were limited, and there was an active competition for all that was for saile. Deliveries on July contracts amounted to nothing, and this contributed contracts amounted to nothing, and this contributed to firmness. July opened at 541/6541/2c and closed Fluctuations in oats followed those in corn. Fluctuations in oats followed those in corn.

Provisions were fairly active and inclined to firmness, owing to the strength in corn. Live hogs at yards, however, were 5@10c lower. September pork, as a result of the day's tradiag, shows an advance of 12\(\frac{12}{2}\)c. Lard is up 2\(\frac{12}{2}\)c and ribs 7\(\frac{12}{2}\)c.

Lamson Bros. & Co.'s Grain Letter. Lamson Bros. & Co.'s Grain Letter.

CHICAGO, July 1.—In accordance with ageneral rule which has prevailed the last week, nearly everybody, including outside and local speculators, were anxious to sell something. A few were selling out some of their holdings. The majority, as is very likely to be the case where everything is very cheap, seem to feel that they can sell with impunity and realize handsome profits no matter what the price is. European correspondents poured in their bearish cables from the opening to the close. We notice however that sent correspondents poured in their bearish cables from the opening to the close. We notice however that spot grain of all kinds is in good demand with very small supply at high premium over sellers for the month. Toward the close an attempt was made by a few shorts to protect outstanding contracts and the consequence was there was an advance from 1 to 3 cents in wheat corn and oats. Clearances continue large and not-withstanding bearish cables commission houses having a foreign connection have been good buyers in New York, St. Louis and Chicago for the past day or two and at least twenty-five boatloads were taken from New York alone today for export. It is a query to us how people can expect to make money selling July and how people can expect to make money selling July and September corn short from 50 to 55 cents, when cash orn is bringing 59 cents for domestic use. This cor dition obtains in oats, cash oats bringing all the dition obtains in oats, cash oats bringing all the way from I to 3 cents premium over July, August and Sep-tember. The domestic and foreign demand for lard and ribs continues and we notice a good advance in the hog product. The only class of spot sellers who have reason to be happy are those who have provided for their outstanding contracts the last few days and have gone on a vacation.

AN IMPORTANT LETTER BY THE SCHOOL COMMISSIONER.

The Corps of Instructors—The Dates—Some Useful Information—A Great Educa-tional Work.

State School Commissioner S. D. Bradwell has just issued a circular letter which will be read with interest by all who are engaged in ducational work in Georgia.

It is with reference to the Peabody insti-

The money used in defraying the expense of the normal institutes is furnished by the Peabody board of trust of New York. Captain Bradwell is very by the Peabody bond New York. Captain Bradwell is very anxious to make the institutes a success so that the board of trustees, through their agent, Dr. J. L. M. Curry, of Richmond, Va., may be induced to increase the appropriation hereafter. If the legislature of Georgia were to establish a state normal rollege, there is no reason why it should not receive a yearly donation of $5,000 or $10,000 from this source. Captain Bradwell will himself superintend the institutes. Below is the circular: To the Teachers and County School Commissioners of Georgia: With the appropriation placed at my disposal by the generosity of the Peabody trustees, I have decided to hold three teachers institute this summer, according to the programme already announced, as follows:

Lithia Springs, July 21st. Milledgeville, August 4th. Waycross, August 18th.

The session will be at least ten days at each place.

The session will be as tease text and parjace.

To reach as many teachers as possible—and parteaurly the teachers who are directly connected with the common school system—I thought it prudent to hold sessions at three different points.
Lithia Springs was selected for north Georgia, Milledeville for middle Georgia and Waycross for south Georgia. The expense of transportation will therefore be decreased, and it will be mere convenient to those interested. The interests of the teachers have also been consulted in selecting the latter part of July and the month of August as the time for holding these institutes, as the teachers have more leisure then than at any other season of the year.

and as the teachers have more leisure then than at any other season of the year.

The object aimed at is not simply pleasure, but it is business—the improvement of the teachers in the common schools of Georgia in knowledge, and the best plans and methods of imparting that knowledge to the children of the state. The course of instruction will in the main be limited or those branches which the law requires to be taught in the public schools. It is not "what to teach," but "how to teach" and "how to rule and manage."

CORPS OF INSTRUCTORS. CORPS OF INSTRUCTIONS.

I am pleased to announce as the the corps of instructors, those whose ability in this line is unquestioned, and whose interest in the common chool system of the state is warm and earnest.

At Lithia Springs, the lecturers and instructors was follows:

At Lithia Springs, the lecturers and instructors are as follows:

Major Slaton, of Atlanta; Professor Harper, of Dalton; Professor Harris, of Cedartown; Professor Glenn, of Eliberton; Professor Lane, of Atlanta; Professor Noyes, of Atlanta; Miss Bacon, of Atlanta; Professor Noyes, of Atlanta; Miss Bacon, of Atlants; Professor Hanson, of Atlanta; Miss Bacon, of Atlanta; Miss Johnson, of Lithia Springs; Professor Hanson, of Atlanta; Miss Bacon, of Atlanta; While the chautaqua exercises will be in progress, and there will be much to interest every one, I have every assurance that there will be no interference with institute work.

PEABODY INSTITUTES. MACON TO LAGRANGE. THE PROPLE WANT A MAIL

SERVICE Along the Line of the Macon and Birmingm-Superintendent L. M. Terr Talks-Points About the Boad.

Hon. L. M. Terrell, superintendent of the railway mail service, has just returned from a trip over the line of the Macon and Birming-

Mr. Terrell was on a tour of inspection looking to the establishment of a railway man service over that line. He has completed his inspection and made his report to the postoffice department at Washington, and the department will consider the report, and if ad-

"The Macon and Birmingham road," said Mr. Terrell yesterday, "is as yet not completed. It was originally surveyed from Macon to Birmingham, but the companies became financially embarrassed, and the road went into the hands of a receiver when only completed to LaGrange, a distance of 104

"How about the country through which the road runs?"

"The road runs through a fine section of farming country, and if extended to Birmingham it would do a heavy freight business, but as it is at present, with competition on every side, it will not do much. Since the road has been built, some of the finest granite this side of Maine has been quarried at several different places on the road."
"How about the mail service? Are the people clamoring for it?"

"Yes, all those I conversed with wanted it. but the larger places, like Thomaston, Culloden and Woodbury, are not caring much about it, as they already have better service than this road could give them. For instance, you can mail a letter in Macon this morning and it will reach Thomaston quicker by way of the Central road than it would by the Macon and Birmingham."

"How many postoffices are there?" "There are eight intermediate postoffices between LaGrange and Macon and all have a daily mail service except three, which have semi-weekly and tri-weekly mail service."

"How many daily trains—"
"The road runs only one train each way daily, and it takes seven hours to make the trip from Macon to LaGrange. They run mixed trains and are frequently delayed handling freight. I think it is quite likely that a service will be put on this road, but cannot say until the postoffice department takes some action."

Mr. Terrell speaks in a very flattering manner of the crop prospects along the route, WHITLOCK IN THE HOSPITAL.

He Will Be Carefully Treated and Brought Back to Health. The first night of M. T. Whitlock's stay in the hospital of the Chattahoochee convict camps was restless and sleepless. The change and consequent excitement had wrought up his nerves to such a pitch that leep was not to be thought of. He is under the treatment of Dr. W. O'Daniel, principal physician of the camp, and Dr. S. H. Green,

Whitlock arrived at the camps yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock. His little boy was with him and saw him placed in the hospital and came back to the city on the next train. He was watched ever by a couple of stalwart convicts in stripes and tossed about restlessly on his bunk, but was not suffering intensely. He will be carefully nursed and treated by Dr. Green and will be brought back to his original good health if there is any possible chance. one of his assistants

In the meantime his friends are making strenuous efforts to secure his pardon. FATHER AND SON

hooting at One Another in Burke County-A Lad Filled with Bird Shot. The Waynesboro True Citizen says: On last Tuesday Allen Reeves, a colored man, who lives a few miles out of Waynesboro, on Briar creek, got into an angry dispute with his son. The boy, to escape a beating, then and there took to his heels

by skedaddling around the house. However, he didn't leave so hurriedly but that the carried with him his gun, and as soon as he got beyond the reach of his father he paused long enough at a window to enable him to draw a bead at the old gentleman.

Fortunately for Allen, the explosion only amounted to the bursting of the cap, but even this little incident reminded him that self-preservation called for quick movements, so that he lost no time in getting to his double-barreled gun.

no time in getting to his double-barreled gun.
The boy, in order to show that he would shoot, fired his gun in the direction of his father through the door, perforating the interior with a pleutiful supply of buckshot.
Allen, making ready, threw open the door, and, rapidly taking aim, discharged both barrels, peppering his young hopeful from head to foot. Ir.

picked a good handful from the carcass of the boy.

MAN AND MULE FIGHT.

Attacked by a Mad Mule in Gwinnett The Gwinnett Herald says:

A terrible fight between a man and an infuriated nule occurred in Heyman's blacksmith shop

The mule had an aversion to being shod, and had to be thrown down. Heyman said he would shoe the mule in the regular way or die. With the help of three men Heyman finally fixed the shoe and went to the door to cool off. He had hardly done so when the mule broke away from the man holding him, and with distended jaws made for

The mule chased Heyman all around the shop put his snapping jaws to Heyman's face and bit his nose and lower right cheek. He fell to the floor and the mule deliberately

HOW TO BUY GROCERIES.

A Question of Interest to Everybody.

A little reflection is all that is needed to convince any one that the question of "How to Buy Groceries?" is one of importance to every one; for eating is one of the necessities of life, and a good, well-filled table its greatest luxury. Now, in answering this question, the first requisite should be pure, fresh goods. Go to some store where everything is kept clean and neat, and where you are sure of getting fresh goods of the very best quality.

Surely, if there is anything that we should be careful about, it is that everything we cat should be of the best quality and absolutely pure and tresh.

T. L. HARRISON, OF CONYERS, THE

Of Too Much Morphine—It May Have Been a Suicide—The Body Carried to Conyers.

A man was found dead in bed at the boarding house of Mrs. Clower, 101 Decatur street, yesterday morning.

His death was due to morphine, but whether taken with suicidal intent or not could not be He was dead, and in his pocket was found a bottle containing a little morphine.

The man was T. L. Harrison, a carpenter by trade, who recently came to Atlanta from Conyers, seeking work.

It appears that he has been boarding in Atlanta with his mother. Tuesday night he went to her home, but found no one there, and, not being able to get in, left, telling a neighbor that he would be back at 6 o'clock to breakfast.

He went to Mrs. Clower's and obtained lodging. About 11 o'clock he was taken sick, but soon seemed to recover. He fell asleep, apparently all right, and the people who were waiting upon him left the room Yesterday morning just before 6 o'clock his door was opened and he was found lying dead

For some time no one knew who he was. Coroner Davis was summoned, and an investigation was begun. His mother was soon found, as she was then His mother was soon found, as she was then searching for him, because he had not returned home. A sister of the man living here was also found. The mother and sister went at once to the house, and a pathetic sight it was when they saw him cold in death.

Mr. Harrison has a wife and six young children living at Conyers. The body was taken to that place yesterday afternoon, accompanied by the dead man's sister. Whether the death was a suicide could not be determined by the coroner's jury. There was no evimined by the coroner's jury. There was no evidence to show that the man desired to take his life, but the manner of the death was myste-

A NEGRO KILLED.

His Foot Slips and He Is Crushed by an Engine.
Robert Reynolds, a negro, lost his life by being crushed under an engine early yesterday

Robert Reynolds, a negro, lost his life by being crushed under an engine early yesterday morning.

The accident occurred near the Nelson street bridge, in the yard of the Central railroad.

The negro worked for the road, and has been in its employ for some time.

Just after 4 o'clock yesterday morning he turned a switch for an approaching engine, and then stood in the middle of the track. The engine was approaching slowly, and the men often in such cases step upon the pilot or foot beard in front. Reynolds attempted this and fell. The engine mashed him to the earth and dragged him several feet. The engineer and fireman of the engine soon procured assistance and the man was extricated. Dr. Cooper was at once sent for, but the injuries were so serious that nothing could be done only relieve the dying negro's suffering. His chest and ribs were crushed, causing fatal internal injuries.

He died just before 7 o'clock and was carried

Wylie to the undertaking establishment of Wylie & Barclay, where Coroner Davis held an inquest just after noon. The verdict reached censured no one, stating that the death was caused by the negro's carelessness.

Reynolds was a man of near thirty years of age. He has a wife and one child living at 199 W. Hunter street.

General Anderson's address, which was short and pointed like everything he does, except his fights, has already been published in The Constitution and has aroused all the old-time love and enthusiasm of his famous old-time love and enthusiasm of his famons brigade. His appeal to them to "Come! It may be the last time we shall meet before we cross the river: come and let us enjoy ourselves in recounting the glories and hardships of the past," will not fail to arouse every member of his command and cause them to rally once more at the call of their leader, Fighting Tige Anderson.

The brigade is composed of the following.

Anderson.

The brigade is composed of the following regiments: Seventh Georgia, Eighth Georgia, Ninth Georgia, Eleventh Georgia, First Georgia, Fifty winth Francisk, Fifty winth gia regulars, First Kentucky, Fifty-ninth Georgia, and Rylander's battalion. It goes without saying that all the survivors who can sail attend this reunion and talk over the stormy scenes which they have talk over the stormy scenes which they have gone through together.

An interesting programme, which has already been published, has been arranged, and the many happy features it contains insure pleasure for all who.go.

Judge George Hillyer, who is a member of the brigade, will respond in his usual felicitous manner to the address of welcome by Captain J. W. Hudson.

In addition to this, there will be music and recitations, and short speeches by distinguished members of the brigade.

There will also be a business meeting of the

There will also be a business meeting of the regimental organizations.

And last, but not least, a grand basket dinner, which Tige Anderson's brigade knows well how to handle.

A Voice from Texas.

LODI, MARION COUNTY, Tex., June 30.—To the Survivors of Anderson's Brigade, Seventh, Eighth, Nineth and Eleventh Georgia Regiments. Dear Comrades: I have just learned that all the sur-vivors of the above regiments will meet at Mari-etta, Ga., on the 21st of July for a grand reunion. and while my heart yearns to be with you, it is im and while my heart yearns to be with you, it is im possible for me to get there at that time. It would afford me the greatest of pleasure to meet my old comrades, whom I stood by on many a hard fought battlefield from 18ci to 18c5. Well do we all remember the first battle of Manassas—July 21, 18ci. Trusting to a kind providence that you all may have an enjoyable time. I would be gratified to be with you and participate in the pleasnres of the day, and talk over the lost cause. I shall remember you until time is no more. Your friend and comrade.

J. R. METTS,

Ensign Seventh Georgia Regiment.

CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infant and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea-the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children." Dr. G. C. Osgoor

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves. DR. J. F. KINCHELOE.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription

"Our physicians in the children's depart. ment have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess the merits of Castoria has won us to look with
